Good Times Rock Lee

Let the good times roll
Let them knock you around
Let the good times roll
Let them make you a clown
Let them bring you up in the air
Let them brush your rock and roll hair
Let the good times roll . . .

— The Cars

And that's what we did. In school and out we "let the good times roll." We handled our responsibilities and continued to achieve our goals as we enjoyed this year at Lee.

This was the year of many important decisions for over 600 graduating seniors. The choice to move on to college or to begin a working career had a great impact on the shaping of our futures. These serious moments, though, did not dominate our thoughts. There was always time to enjoy the "good times" we had with our friends not during school.

EVENTS UNITE KIDS

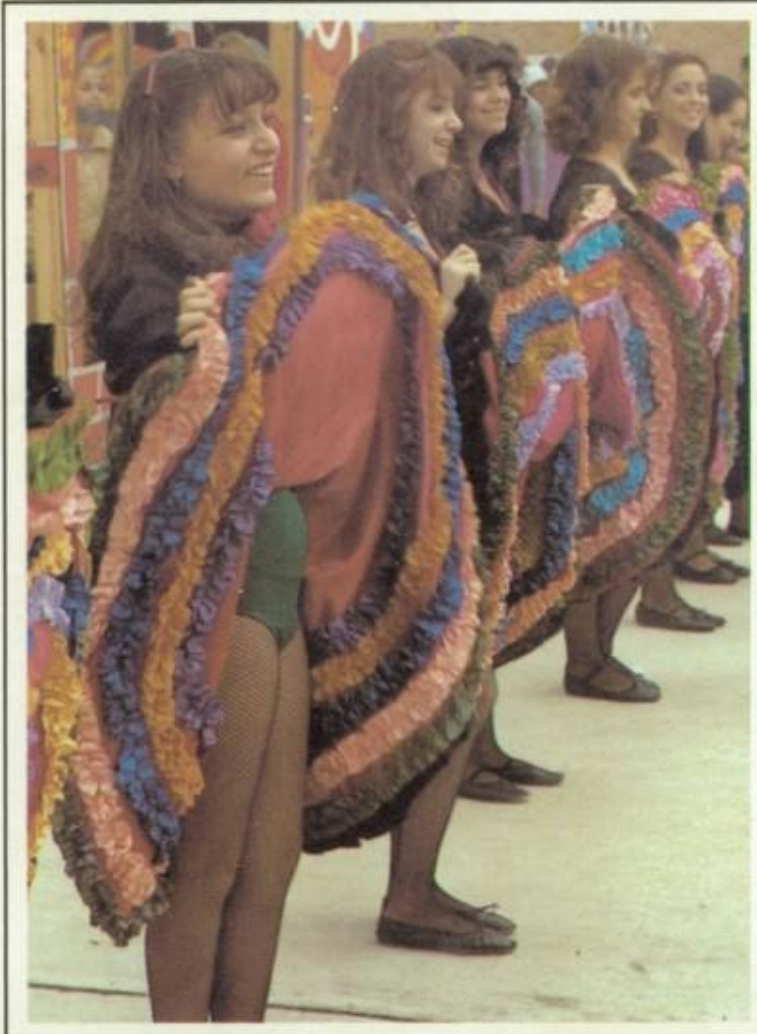

"Good times" were shared by all Lee students. The traditional activities made the school year complete. What would it be like without the football games, pep rallies, spirit days, Volsfest, Stratford, or Junior-Senior prom? Events like these helped to unite the student body and bring more variety to the average school day.

Collegiate to Punk

Fashions this year ranged from the collegiate or "preppy" look to punkish styles. Girls were spotted across the campus wearing miniskirts and sweater dresses hitting well above the knee. Metallic shoes, purses, belts, and other accessories were also a popular fad. Knickers also came back from the past to be worn either with knee socks and loafers or tinted hose and pumps.

For guys, the collegiate look was the most popular. Izods, Polo's, and button-down oxfords sufficed as tops. Jeans have always been the favorite. This year, more Calvin Kleins and Wranglers were seen as well as the traditional Levis.

Among the many factors that make up the overall school year, student life offered all students diverse activities for most interests. School and spirit-oriented activities helped boost morale and correlate with the ideas roused by the School Pride Committee.

These school activities when combined with out-of-school "good times" completed the makings of a great year. The year wouldn't have been the same without the annual spring trip to "Port A." or the night life we all were used to. Whether we spent our weekends dancing, seeing movies, eating at restaurants, or partying with a close group of friends, we'll always remember our "good times."

Who are you going to ask to the Stratford Ball? That was a question that went through many students minds starting in December.

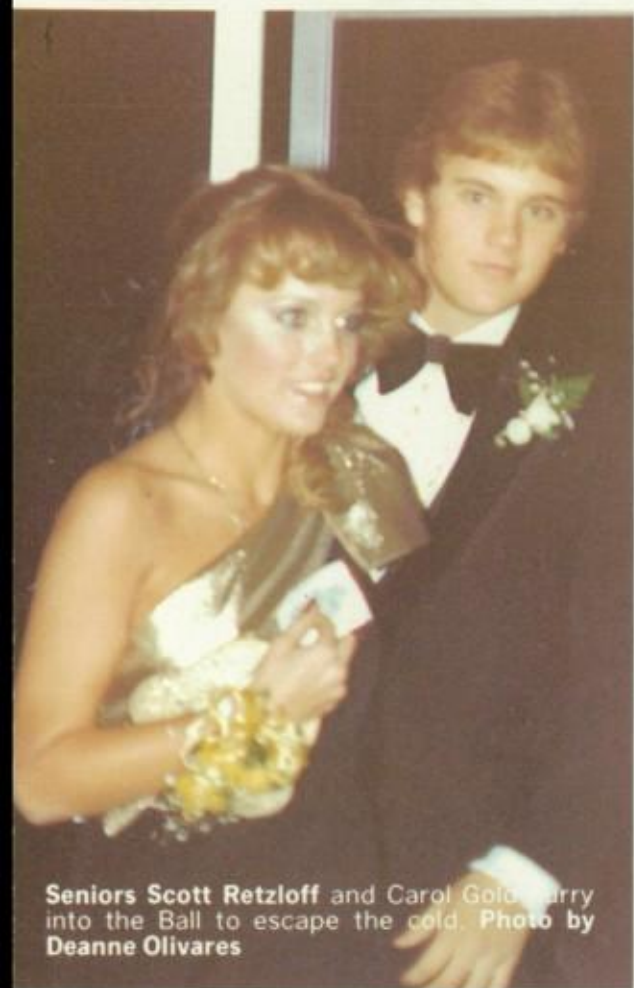

The Stratford Ball is a traditional formal school dance. It provides dancing, pictures, mingling among friends and, of course, the Stratford court. This year's court was King Michael Meyer, and Queen Jill Rosenberg. The Junior Duke and Duchess are Eddie Klauer and KaRynn Kolm. Sophomore Duke and Duchess are Andy Priest and Molly Watts. Freshmen are Joey Alvarez and Penny Jenkins.

Even though Stratford is a tradition and special honor dance, many did not attend this year because it's just too darn expensive! Imagine paying 50 dollars to rent a tuxedo for ONE night! At least girls get to keep their dresses.

Music was provided by Orion and the Senior theme was "HOLD ON" by Triumph.

Nowhere Else but Lee

The mood is bright. The air is chilled. Hundreds of people attended the annual Lee Volsfest. Everyone from infants to senior citizens came and joined in on all the festivities.

Activities ranged from munching out to watching football players make complete fools out of themselves. However, partying with friends was the main event.

The traditional dance was performed by none other than the ever-talented Lee Varsity football team. They gracefully pranced about in the coyest fashion.

The main purpose of the Volsfest is to give the clubs on campus a chance to raise money for equipment or out-of-town trips. All-in-all,

It's Out of This World

The time is now for crazy outfits. 1982 holds a halloween for Punk-Rockers, Pizza fans, and guys trying to look like their girlfriends. Every year the students here on the campus dress up for halloween as well as the game the following evening. The costumes ranged from Southern Belles to Dracula.

During the course of the day, the students gather in the court yard for the judging. The judging is done by selected teachers. Choices for the winner are based on originality, and difficulty. This year's winner was the glass of milk and the oreo cookie. Seniors Glenn Streiff and Brad Beldon teamed up for a winning combination.

2. Senior Kenneth Hernandez obviously has a deep desire to become the next Rene Richards. Or, maybe, the next Bo Derek! Who Knows?

4. The divine Mrs. Carol Lillibridge participated in this rather odd behavior. Well, even English teachers can get crazy after a mere thousand term papers.

Colorado!

OH MY GOSH! You mean the only way off this hill is to ski . . . ALL THE WAY DOWN?!

Skilling may seem like a breeze UNTIL you're up on that hill and then it's just you and your prayers to keep you going.

Skilling is a lot of fun and great exercise. This year Campus Life and Law Enforcement went together.

Senior Elizabeth Baca went for the first time this year and this is what she had to say, "I was down more than I was up, but I had a blast!"

Many people felt that their bottoms did more skilling than their feet.

"It was fantastic!" says Senior Lisette Robalin, "I like the people, everyone is just there to have a great time and everyone is nice to each other."

Campus Life goes skilling every year during Christmas break. So, if you're interested in meeting people and having a great time, maybe skilling is for you!

Let classmates entertain you

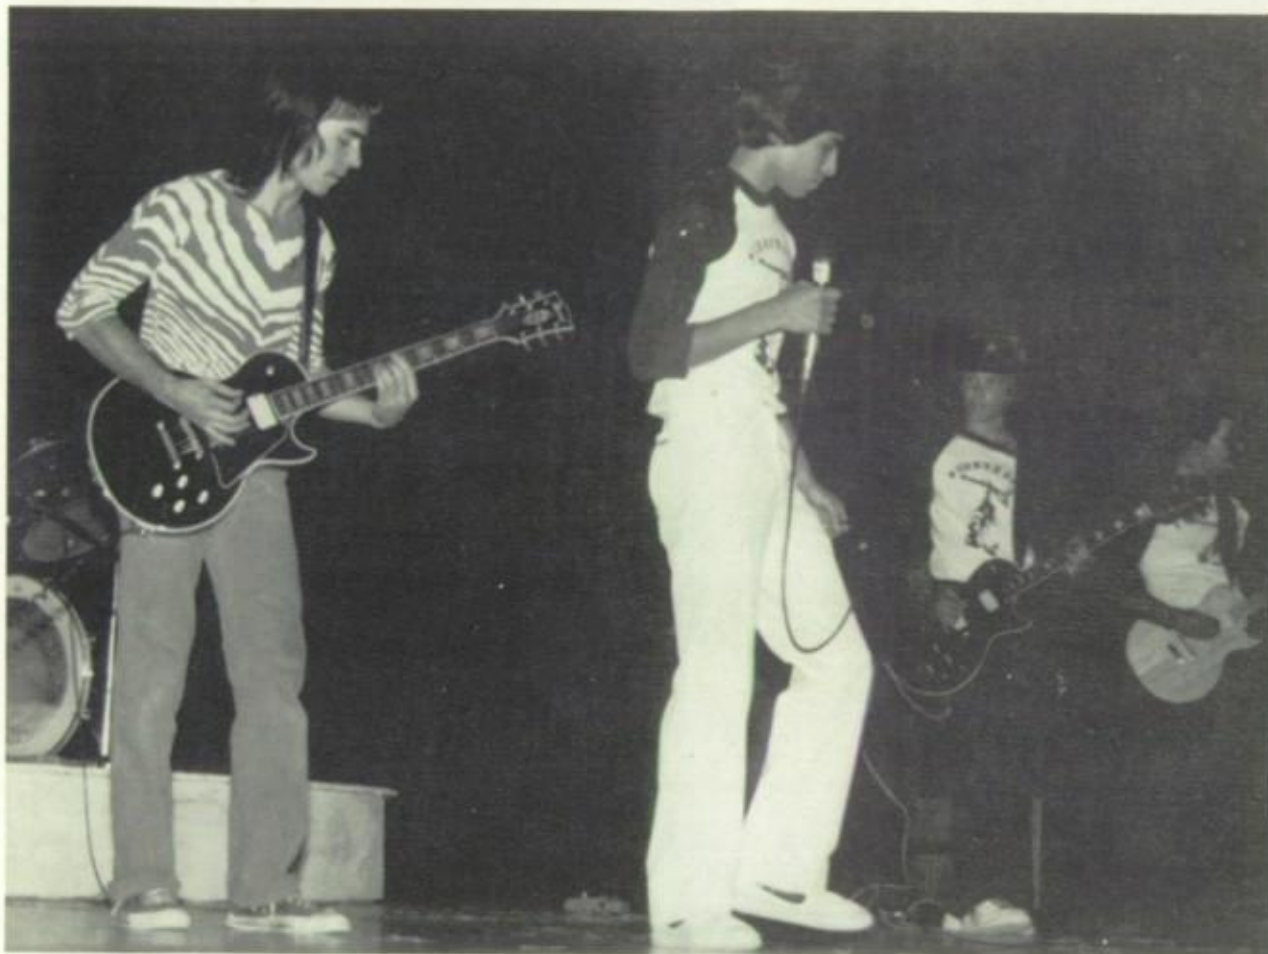

It is really pretty exciting to see what "hidden" talents your schoolmates have. Collage '81 was a chance for students, parents, and faculty to see the many talents of the students.

The talent show had dance routines that were choreographed by Senior Donna Maltos and a skillful gymnastics show performed by Seniors Tom McCann and Greg Bourgeois. There were several singers, an air guitar band, a real band composed of Lee students, and, of course, the traditional Senior Act.

The show is a chance for many people to perform on a stage and in front of an audience for the first time.

Collage has been a tradition at Lee for several years, and probably will be for a long time to come. It provides fun, excitement, togetherness, and entertainment.

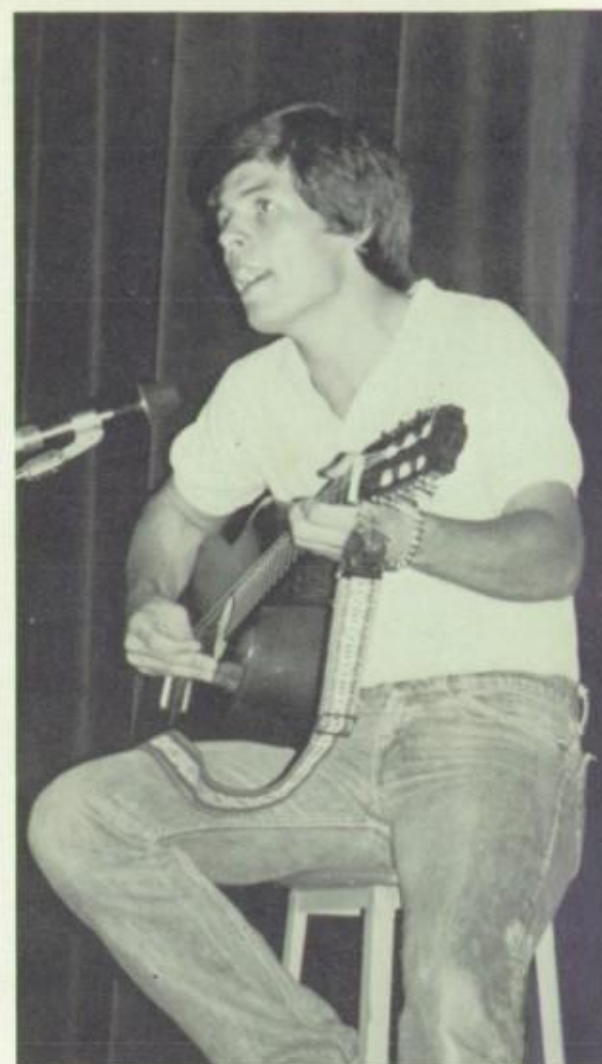

The part of Moralice from "A Chorus Line" was portrayed by Senior Sally Frontman.

Rebels volunteer time to help out

Everybody is special, and the mentally disabled are no exception. Several Northeast District Schools have special programs for the disabled or slower learners who participate in the yearly Special Olympics.

The Lee Fellowship of Christian Athletes helped with the Special Olympics.

Each guy in F.C.A. gets a "buddy" that they are responsible for these Olympics.

There are several different events that F.C.A. members take their buddies to participate in. The standing long jump, frisbee throw, softball throw, and 50-meters dash are just a few.

Ribbons are given to the first, second, and third places in each event, that makes doing one's best worth it.

Roosevelt and Churchill High School were also helping with the Olympics.

These special Olympics were held at Blossom Athletic Center and lasted the whole day.

Junior Larry Bowden's buddy seemed to have won a ribbon. Maybe Bowden could become a coach.

Friendships are easily developed with these Olympics, Junior Henry Davila with his buddy.

"Let's go skiing," says Senior Gary Carr.

Snowball fights were seen throughout the day it snowed. Senior Jimmy Villarreal makes plans to participate.

It's snowing!

Is it actually snowing? Yes, it was no ordinary rumor, it was actually true!

It has been several years since San Antonians have seen the sight of snow on the ground. Many of the students don't even remember the last time it snowed, and several of the students had never even seen snow.

Lunch time was no ordinary lunch. The child in everyone, including teachers, came out. There were smiles on everyone's faces and massive snowball fights. Everyone seemed to have a happy day!

Here's to You, Class of '82

This page is solely dedicated to the graduating class of nineteen hundred and eighty-two! The Seniors of '82 did everything from "Workin' for the Weekend" with Loverboy to "Shakin' it Up" with the Cars.

Seniors began a new tradition here this year. Instead of the usual vandalizing of the campus the night before Senior skip-out day, the Seniors were allowed by the administration to "decorate" the school with toilet paper, streamers, and signs. However, several seniors got the big "snag" at Canyon Lake the following day: Sad Story.

The most popular senior saying dropped around campus was transformed from last year's "Knock Off" to this year's "Take Off." The phrase "Take Off Hoser" originated from the hit single "Take Off to the Great White North" by McKinzie and McKinzie of the late-night tv show, SCTV. Not only did the phrase get dropped around campus, but also at Port A.

The class of '82 at Lee were the first to fly the coop. Seniors graduated Monday, May 24, the first commencement ceremony for a NE school this year. So here's to you, Class of '82. To all the college bound, matrimony bound, occupation bound, or just bummin' around bound, always remember to "LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!"

New Senior Class Takes Hold of Rings

May saw the attack of the senioritis bug as it hit in the Home of the Volunteers. What made attitudes change even more was the arrival of caps and gowns.

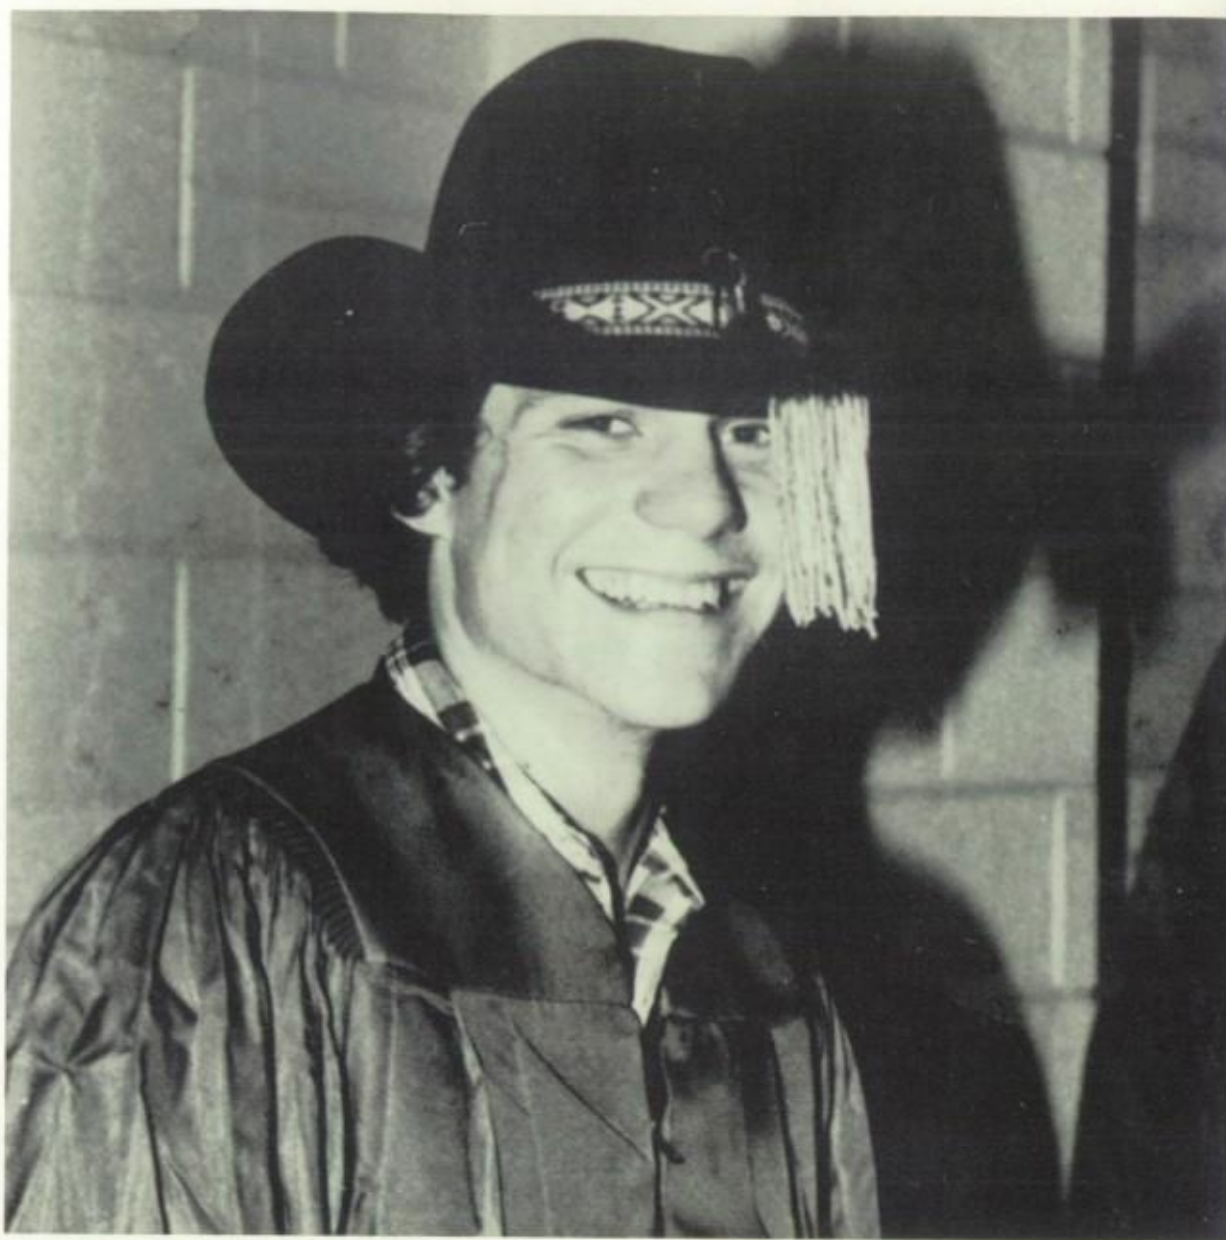

As they paraded around school decked out in their crimson finery, seniors had to feel pretty good about themselves because May 24, Graduation Day, was just a few days away.

Another group also had something to look forward to. Despite the costs, many juniors made a decision to buy that symbol of high school superiority, a senior ring. The soon-to-be-seniors took possession of their rings May 25.

"Do you think they will notice at graduation?" a senior boy wonders. Photo by Robert Casell.

Western Element Is Pro-Lee

"I could not believe it!" said a new student at Lee. "At the first pep rally when they sing the school song, and I saw all these cowboy hats up in the air — that was something I'd never seen before."

First in the parking lot, first out of the parking lot, first at the water fountains and first in our hearts, Lee's cowboys.

Western attire, still very popular, has gone from ranch-hand sturdy to prairie chic. These clothes appeal to students so much that they can be seen in almost any classroom at any period of the day.

Cheerleaders Chosen

Excitement rolled around the school on Friday March 5. Ten girls tried out for the junior varsity cheerleader squad, which only could allow five girls. The five girls chosen were Penny Jenkins, Mary Ford, Alisa Schmidt, Stephanie Kissling, and Staci O'Brien.

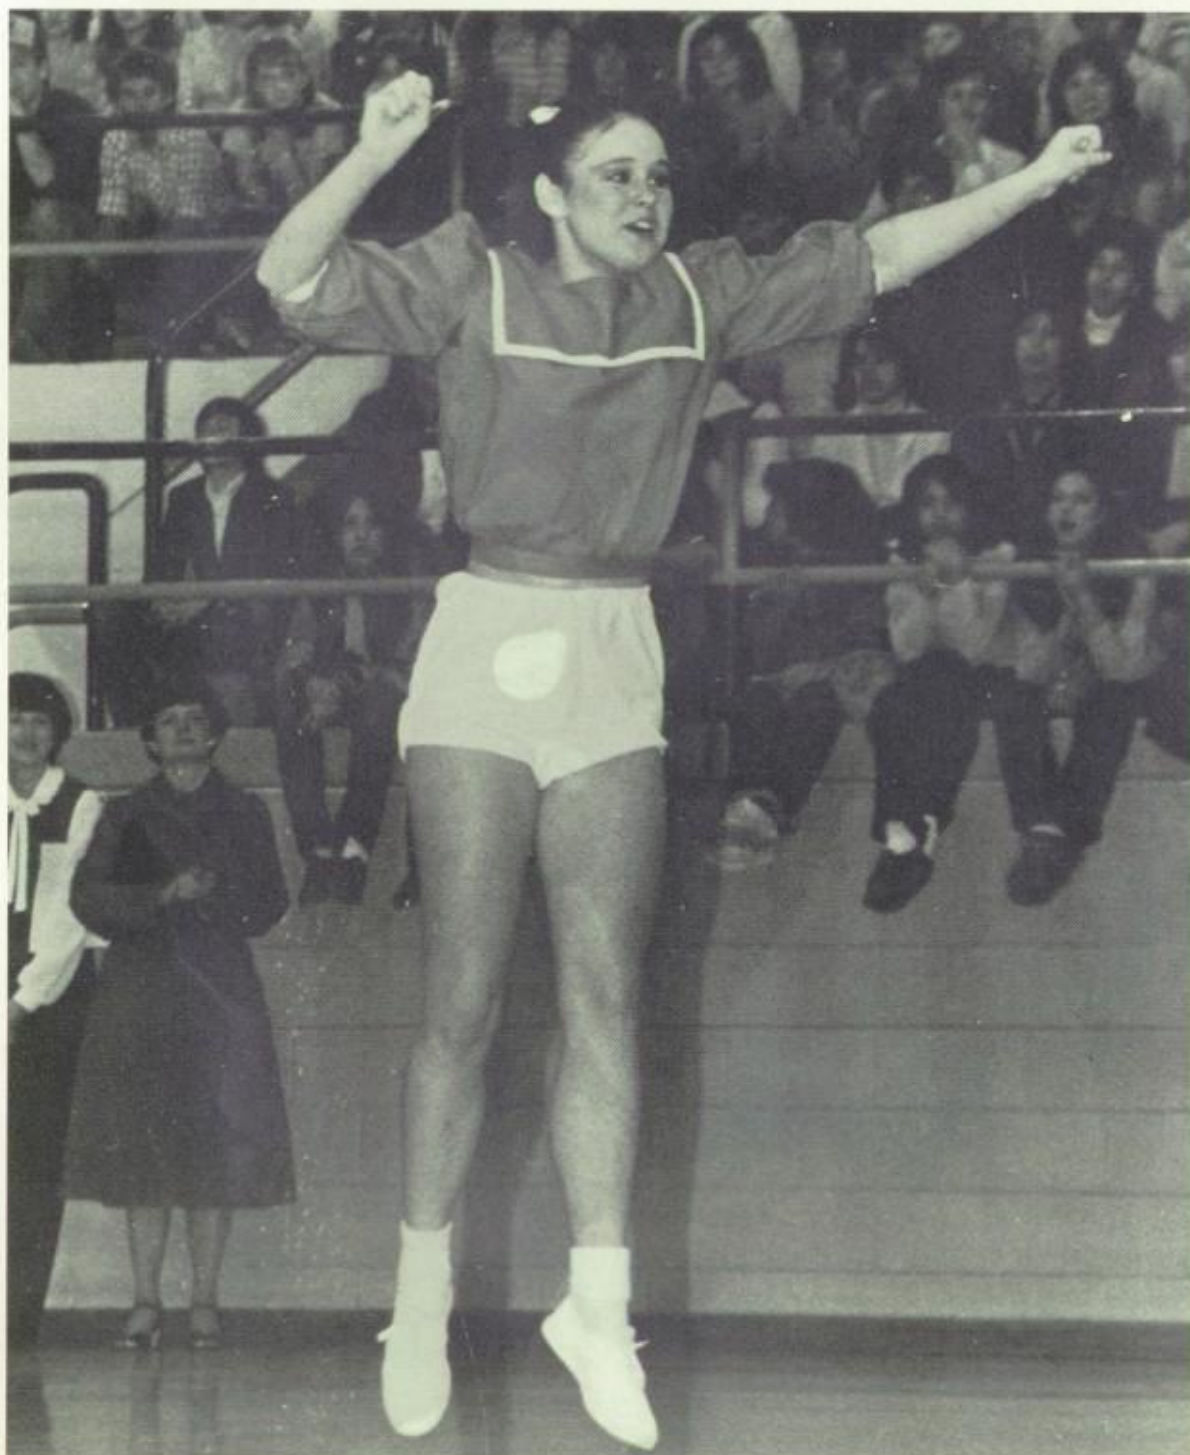

Seven girls were chosen from the 17 girls who tried out for the varsity positions. KaRynn Kolm, Jeanne Jenkins, Liza Garza, Lisa Wilkerson, Shannon Edwards, Jill Martin, and Dena Mabry were the seven chosen girls. KaRynn Kolm will have the honor of head cheerleader.

Spring Break '82 Brings Welcome Rest

Need Greenbacks? Get a Job

Most high school students seek employment when they turn 16. Some are employed sooner than others, but the most popular job spots will always remain the same.

Many Lee students hold part-time jobs for extra cash due to the high cost of living. Others work as part-time for schooling or to raise money for a college education.

The school has several vocational programs to help students find employment. VOE/OEA is one. This course teaches students office skills and offers jobs as secretaries in almost any area of work. The others are DECA and CVAE programs devised to get jobs for students in places like restaurants, nursing homes, department stores, and day care centers. HECE is another job finding program offered through the homemaking department.

High school students have always held part-time jobs and probably always will; maybe not because they have to, but because of the independence and extra cash it brings them.

Parking Lots Overflow at Lee

Cars are very important to most high school students. Whoever had the fastest and best looking car seemed to have the most people in it.

The most popular cars were Jeeps, Cameros, and compact cars; although a few fixed up "oldies" were in the parking lot. Gas prices being so unreasonable, many students carpooled.

A new policy required all new cars to be registered in the office. For a $1.50 a student filled out a form stating the license number and insurance information and received a sticker to place on the windshield. Cars in the parking lot without this sticker were ticketed with a $2.50 fine. This was mainly used to make sure all driving students had the proper insurance and to hopefully keep students out of faculty parking places.

Junior Kimberly Eskew walks through the parking lot before going home. She's wishing she had Bill Stidham's Mercedes.

Class of '82 Leaves on a Positive Note

For the seniors, Monday, May 24 was very special. For on this evening students gathered with family and friends at the Joe and Harry Freeman Coliseum to participate in commencement ceremonies.

Lines snaked slowly to the building. No one was really bothered by the lines because this evening the people were going to a festive occasion. With the golden cords around their shoulders, honor graduates took their places at the front of the group. Almost 600 people shared a common bond on this evening, along with the thousands there to view the event.

As hundreds of cameras snapped in the special area set aside for pictures, eager seniors waited for their names to be called.

Starting at the stroke of eight and ending about two hours later, graduation ceremonies ended with a toss of the mortarboards as a wave of hope shined before the graduates.

The evening would not have been complete without the tossing of caps.

Mr. Jim Shephard, choir director, and his groups performed before the ceremony. Senior Mary Runkle, All-State choir member, sang a solo.

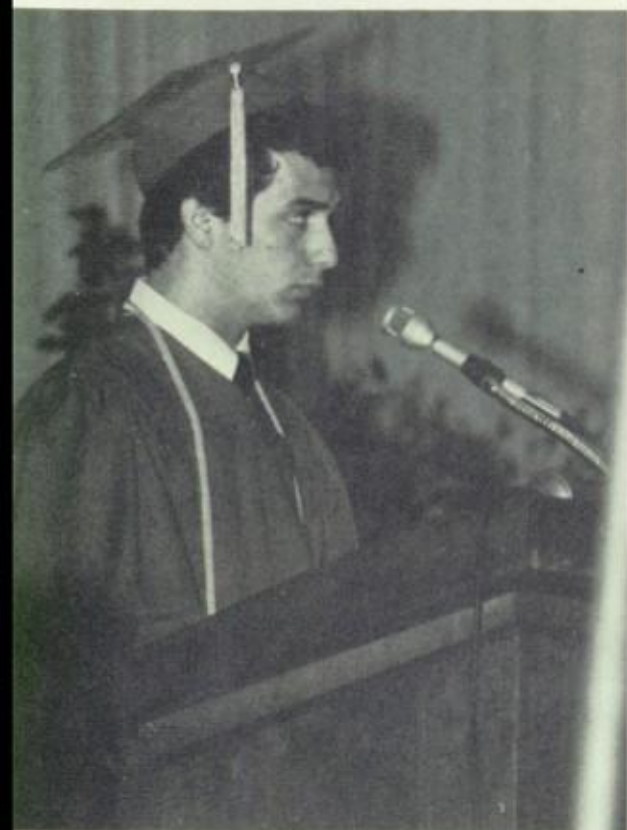

David Deiser hobbles across the stage on crutches to receive his diploma from school board member, Mr. Luke Postolos. All photos by Scott Sorensen.

"We were the class that enjoyed each other," says George Postolos in his assured manner. George leaves behind an awesome reputation as a gifted speaker and debater. Also making a speech was Dorothy Zinn.

This senior experiences his last performance with the band. It was also Band Director Melvin Meads' final evening, as he retires in May.

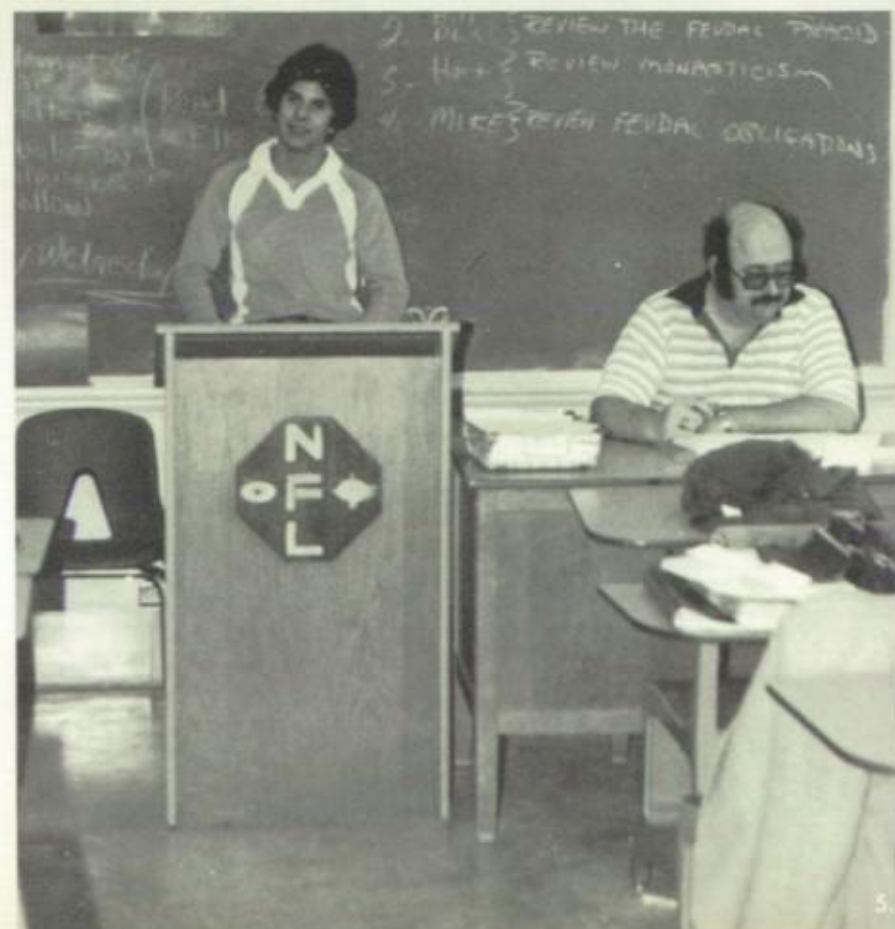

Mr. William Clary, government teacher and a senior advisor, waits for the signal to send the seniors. David Clary, his son, is also among the graduates.

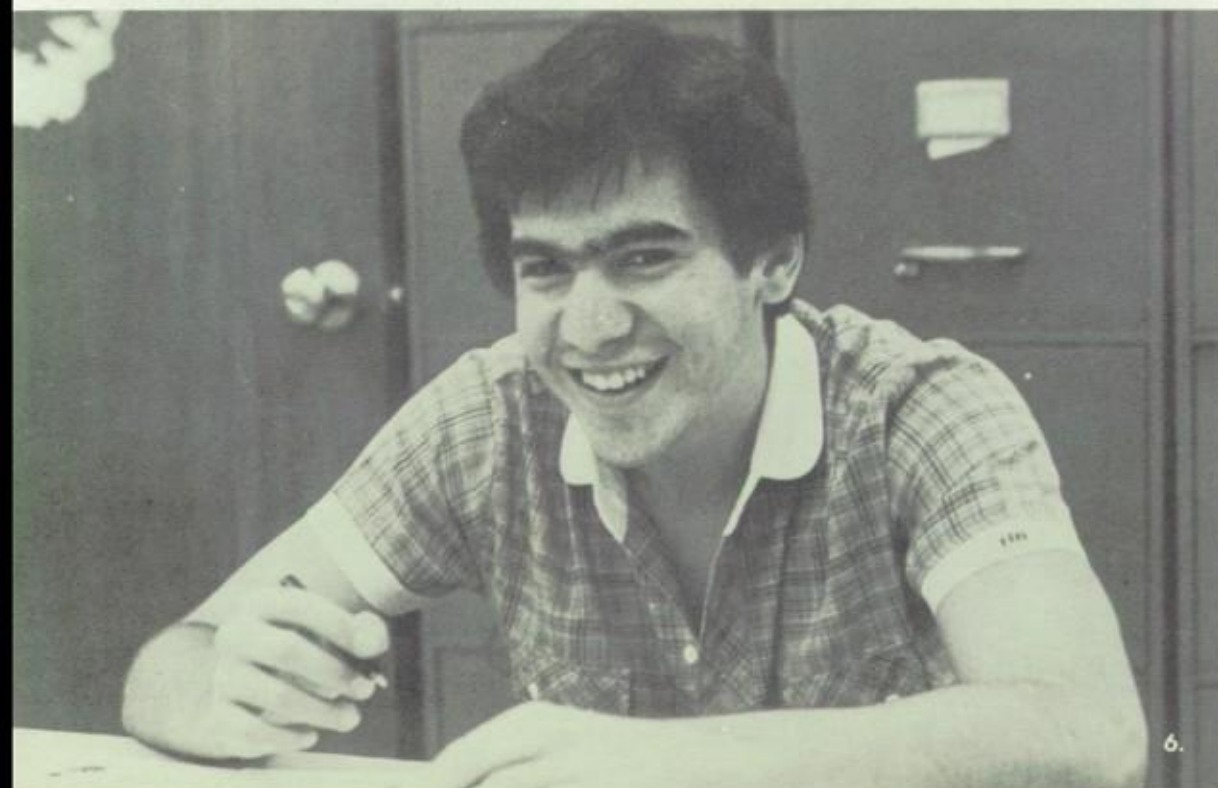

Nothing could dampen the high spirits and love felt among classmates on this special night.

Good Times in Classes

All four classes participated in their own specific events. The spirit chain contest proved to be as successful as always, with the juniors winning by a large margin. The traditional junior and senior class meetings covered all pending business including the juniors' ordering of their senior class rings and the seniors' voting on superlatives among other class matters.

One unfortunate happening brought the seniors together for a few extra class meetings. The portrait photographer, contracted by the school, Homer Davis, failed to meet his agreement with the school and did not come through with any senior pictures. Arrangements were made with another photographer and the school took legal action against Davis for the amount of $15,000 in a performance bond.

The effort of all classes was combined to support the anti-vandalism school pride campaign. Every student wrote an essay stressing the malevolence of vandalism for competition in a district-wide contest. Another competition also brought great results. Lee, through Foleys Department Store, won the use of the ballroom of the Marriot Hotel for the Junior-Senior prom on May 15. Lee had the most participants of any school in the city to go to Foley's and sign up for the room. These accomplishments emphasized the unity of the classes still present at Lee.

In Remembrance of Lauren

The skies were darkened and the air was full of mourning. Friends came and shed tears, tears that had never given up hope of your being with us again. But now, death has come and life is no more. The life which was pure and innocent of any demented crime, had been selfishly decreased of its natural time.

The day is quiet and not a sound can be heard, not even a chirp from a cardinal red bird. But even then family and friends continue to come, none wanting to hold back, the memories of good times and fun. The eyes of many are filled with tears, tears full of love and happiness in having known you as a friend these many wonderful years.

So it is with these words that I pay my sincere respects to you, Lauren, because never again will there ever be anyone as you . . .

Junior Lauren Cooke was in a one car accident Feb. 2 and never regained consciousness. Lauren passed away Mar. 26, and services were held Mar. 27 at Trinity Baptist Church. Reverend Paul Tisdell, Lee faculty member, officiated.

Good Times in Academics

Often times, the most talked about individuals on campus are members of the elite — our faculty. Although the gossip is not always benevolent, the teachers do truly gain the respect of the student body. The faculty plays a large role in the growth rate and maturity of each student.

Freshman and sophomore teachers use disciplinary measures to help us grow. They force us to "behave" as well as give us strong background knowledge to aid us in the future. It is in our underclassman years that we learn the basics of good study practice.

Our junior and senior class teachers get us ready for the significant years ahead. We have, we hope, matured greatly and find ourselves turning to our teachers for important advice that will help us shape our lives. We don't always share "good times" with our teachers the majority of our years, but in the end we come to appreciate all that they have done for us as individuals.

The 'New' Hits From All Sides

Several new things appeared on campus. We saw new freshmen attempting to find their way around, new buildings being built, new teachers, and a new assistant principal.

The buildings built behind the East Wing will serve vocational purposes. There was also an additional building built for Home Economics with two classrooms.

The school received 12 new teachers in many different departments: four in English, three in athletics, one in vocational, and one in drama.

Mrs. Gail Siller was the new assistant principal who came here from Roosevelt, where she served as assistant principal. Mrs. Siller is not sure she wants to be a principal, but she has "Decided to make education a career."

Fine Arts Has Busy Year

The Fine Arts and Foreign Language Departments cover many areas. Languages such as Spanish, French, Latin and German, and Fine Arts such as Drama, Band, Debate, arts and crafts and drafting are available to students.

The language department, headed by Melford Turner and Sue Weber, is educational, cultural and fun. Most students favorite part of language class is culture days. Students bring dishes from the countries they are studying. Strawberry Kuchen, Kartoffel Salat, Empanadas, and Quiche have been served.

Drama, Band, Choir, Arts and Crafts, and journalism are all included under Fine Arts. These classes are always very busy. Whether it is a play production in Drama or yearbook sales in journalism there is always something going on.

Time Spent Means English Learned

The English department is the largest department of them all. Students must have four years of English to graduate, and the teachers make sure they get the most out of all four years.

No matter what level one is on, the English department has the right one for him. The levels are basic, regular and enriched. Students take aptitude tests to determine which level they belong on.

When asked what is the most unpopular event of the year is, most students reply term papers. It involves many hours of long research and study. Research papers are usually introduced to students their sophomore year so they will be ready for term papers their junior and senior years. The senior year term paper is a major portion of the final grade.

Trinity Honors Math Teacher

Loyce Collenback, math teacher, was this year's district nominee for the Trinity Prize for Excellence in Teaching. She was chosen from 33 nominees by a 12-member committee chaired by Twain Tharp, president of the Northeast Teacher's Association.

Mrs. Collenback has been a teacher for 26 years. She is a former president of the Northeast Teacher's Association, and she was named "Best Teacher" by Lee students at their 10 year reunion last year.

Mrs. Collenback teaches basic math students; she comments "with a group (of students) to whom math does not come so easily, I am made more aware of the significant role of the teacher in the education process." She also teaches advanced math courses.

She is presently working on her doctoral degree and expects to complete it this summer, receiving her Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin.

"As a teacher, I think of myself as a catalyst, one who helps to see that it all comes together in this process called learning."

A student works with her calculator during lunch. Calculators came in many shapes and sizes; some even play musical notes.

Jobs, school mix for success

Vocational classes give students a good look at jobs and what they want to do with their lives.

Kenneth Koop heads the cooperative work program. Its divisions are ICT, CVAE, DECA, HOSA, VOE, Law Enforcement and Horticulture.

Piping trades, auto mechanics, radio and t.v., commercial art and cosmetology are all included under general vocational trade classes. Most general vocational classes last either two or three hours a day.

Cosmetology, instructed by Liz White, offers students a two year course in which they learn hair cutting techniques, manicuring and skin care. After working 1,000 hours, students are eligible to take the State Board exam to become licensed cosmetologist.

Env. Science Now Offered

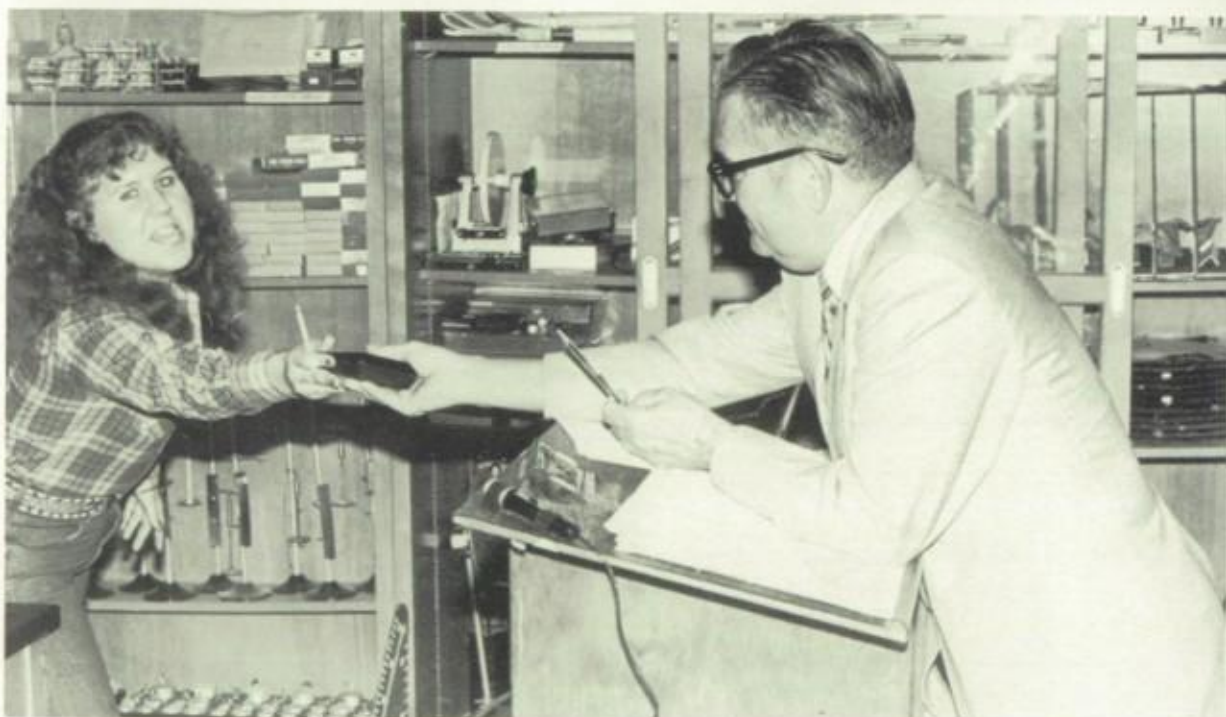

Students who like science have many different courses to choose from. The Science Department offered second year courses in biology, chemistry, physics and now the new course, environmental science.

Environmental Science may be counted for students as either a full year or semester course. It covers everything from energy conservation to wildlife and ecology studies. This class used to be offered during the summer only, but it is now offered during the school year. Instructor Fred Kinman is still holding his summer class.

Many activities that were introduced last year are being repeated this year. Some of the activities are "incredible edibles," the use of computers, video tapes and "trash can art."

Three "R's" Plus an "S?"

"Reading, Ritin' and Rithmetic," doesn't mention Social Studies. Social Studies includes several kinds of history and government. During one's years in school, one takes all kinds of history such as state history and geography. In high school, there are three courses one must take and pass to graduate.

In the freshman year the course offered is American history. There are both regular and enriched classes available.

World history is offered either as a sophomore course during summer school or as a junior course. This class also offers regular and enriched courses.

Government is offered to juniors or seniors. It is in American Government that students discuss what goes on in the "real world" and how the government has power to run the country.

School Days Interesting for Faculty

Facilities Offer Skill Improvement

The library offers a peaceful place to study or do homework. Other than the wide selection of books the library has to choose from, it also has microfilm machines, a copy machine and filmstrips. They have all sorts of reference material including The Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, featuring magazine articles that could be helpful.

The Business Department helps students to learn skills that they might need in the business world. The courses offered are typewriting, shorthand, notetaking, accounting, record keeping, business law, and personal business management. Typing classes were set up to teach various levels of typing skills to help students use their techniques for term papers in college as well as high school.

Girls, Guys Benefit in P.E.

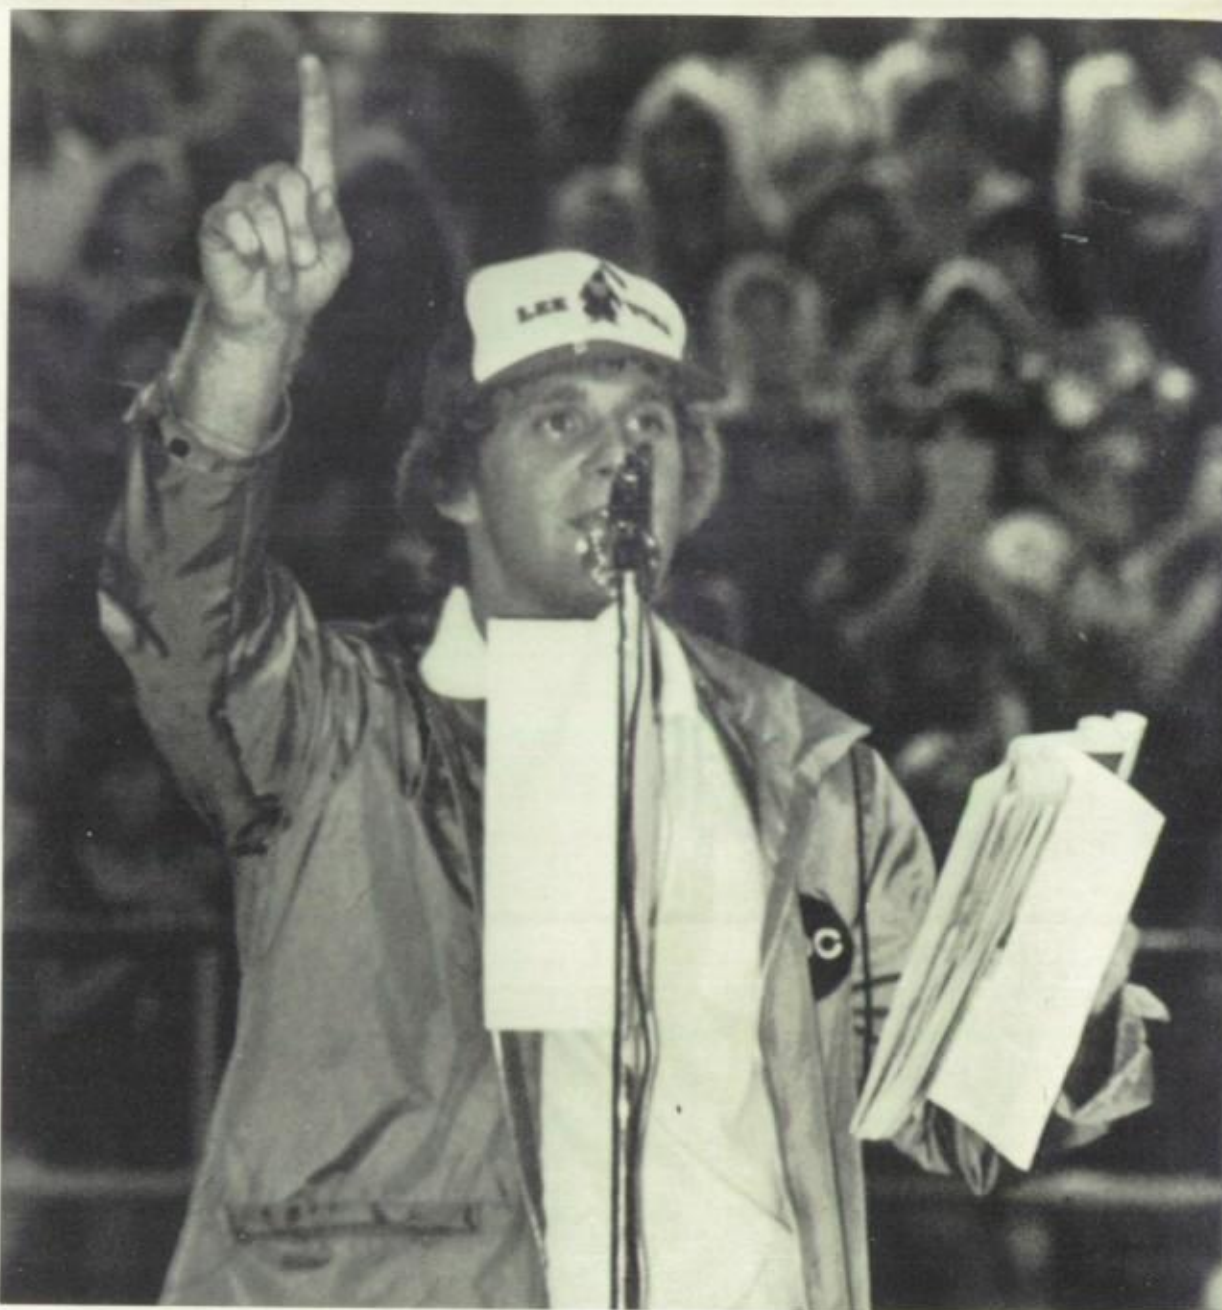

Athletics covers many fields. Most people only think of football or basketball when the word is mentioned. It does include both of the above, but it also includes baseball, track and field, volleyball, cross country, tennis, and P.E.

In P.E. classes you will find that most, if not all, of these activities are taught. Plus the physical education students also play soccer. During the last semester, they were able to go to Bowlerama to bowl. So the next time somebody asks what athletics covers, don't just think of the "jocks." Remember that the P.E. students work hard, too.

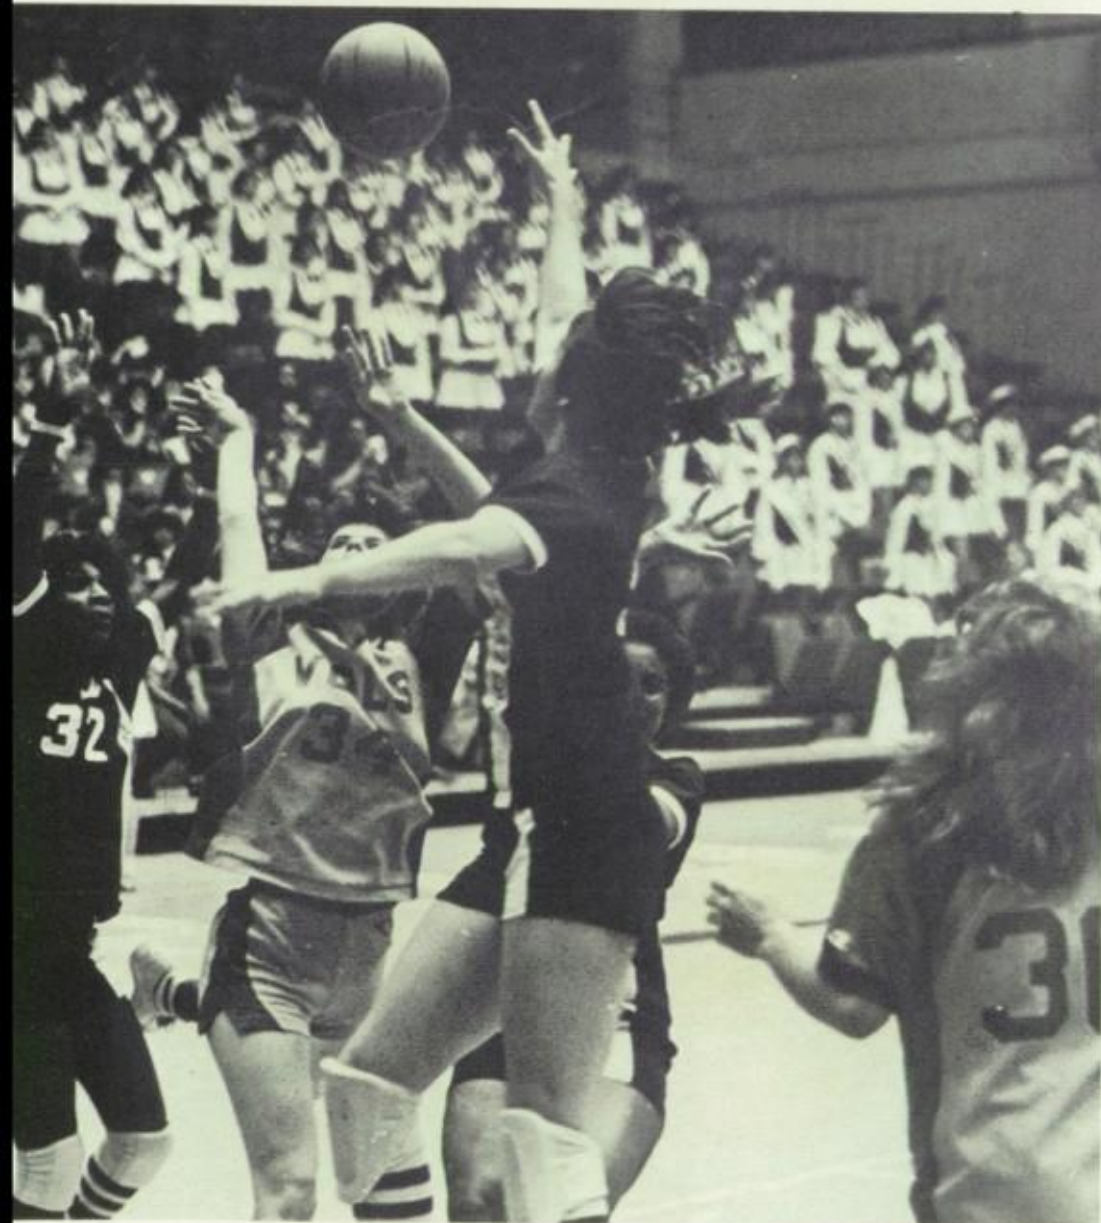

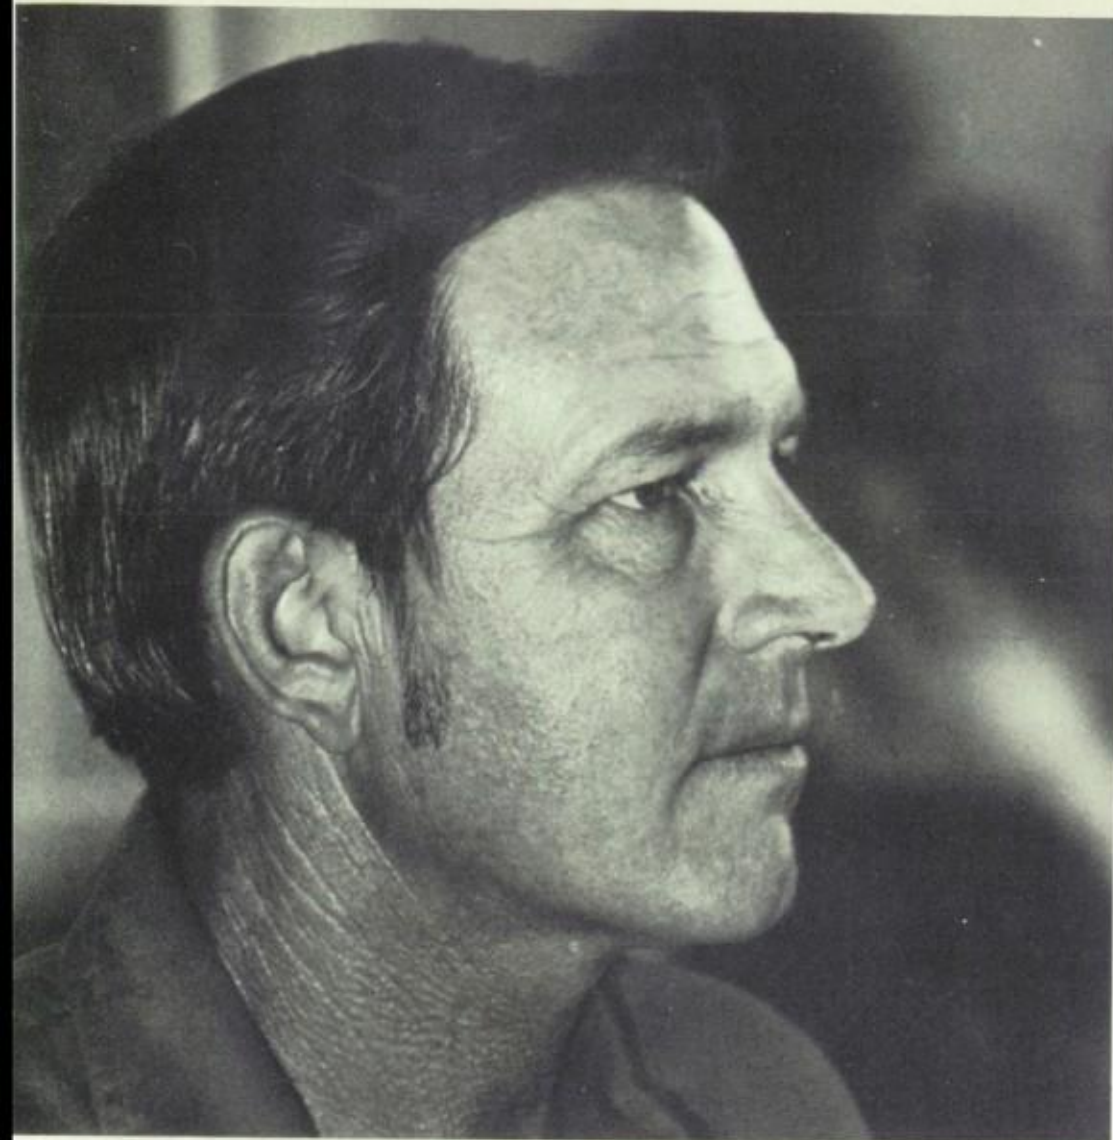

One of Lee's most exciting pep rallies was the Roosevelt pep rally when Channel 12 sportscaster Joe "Boo" Fowler gave the guys and the whole school a pep talk that really "fired" every one up.

Unsung Heroes Do Dirty Work

There are people around school campuses that students tend to forget and don't recognize. They are the custodians and cafeteria workers.

The custodians do a lot around the campus. The minute something is messed up, they are right behind to clean up. The day the seniors papered the courtyard, who cleaned it up? That's right, the custodians.

Without the cafeteria workers, the students would be stuck at school without lunch. They also prepare breakfast for some students who come early. Lots of the time kids complain about cafeteria food, but give the ladies a break. They do a lot of work, and it's all for you. The ladies cook for over 2,000 students and teachers every day, then they stay around to clean up.

The custodians stay around the school for most of the night and are responsible for locking up. Cafeteria ladies arrive early, to get a start on breakfast, and don't leave until around 2:30 when both lunches are over and everything is cleaned up.

Cafeteria worker Elinor Ennis collects money in the lunch line.

Preparing lunch for 2,000 students is a very difficult job, but Elinor Ennis and Evelyn Weinheimer make it look easy.

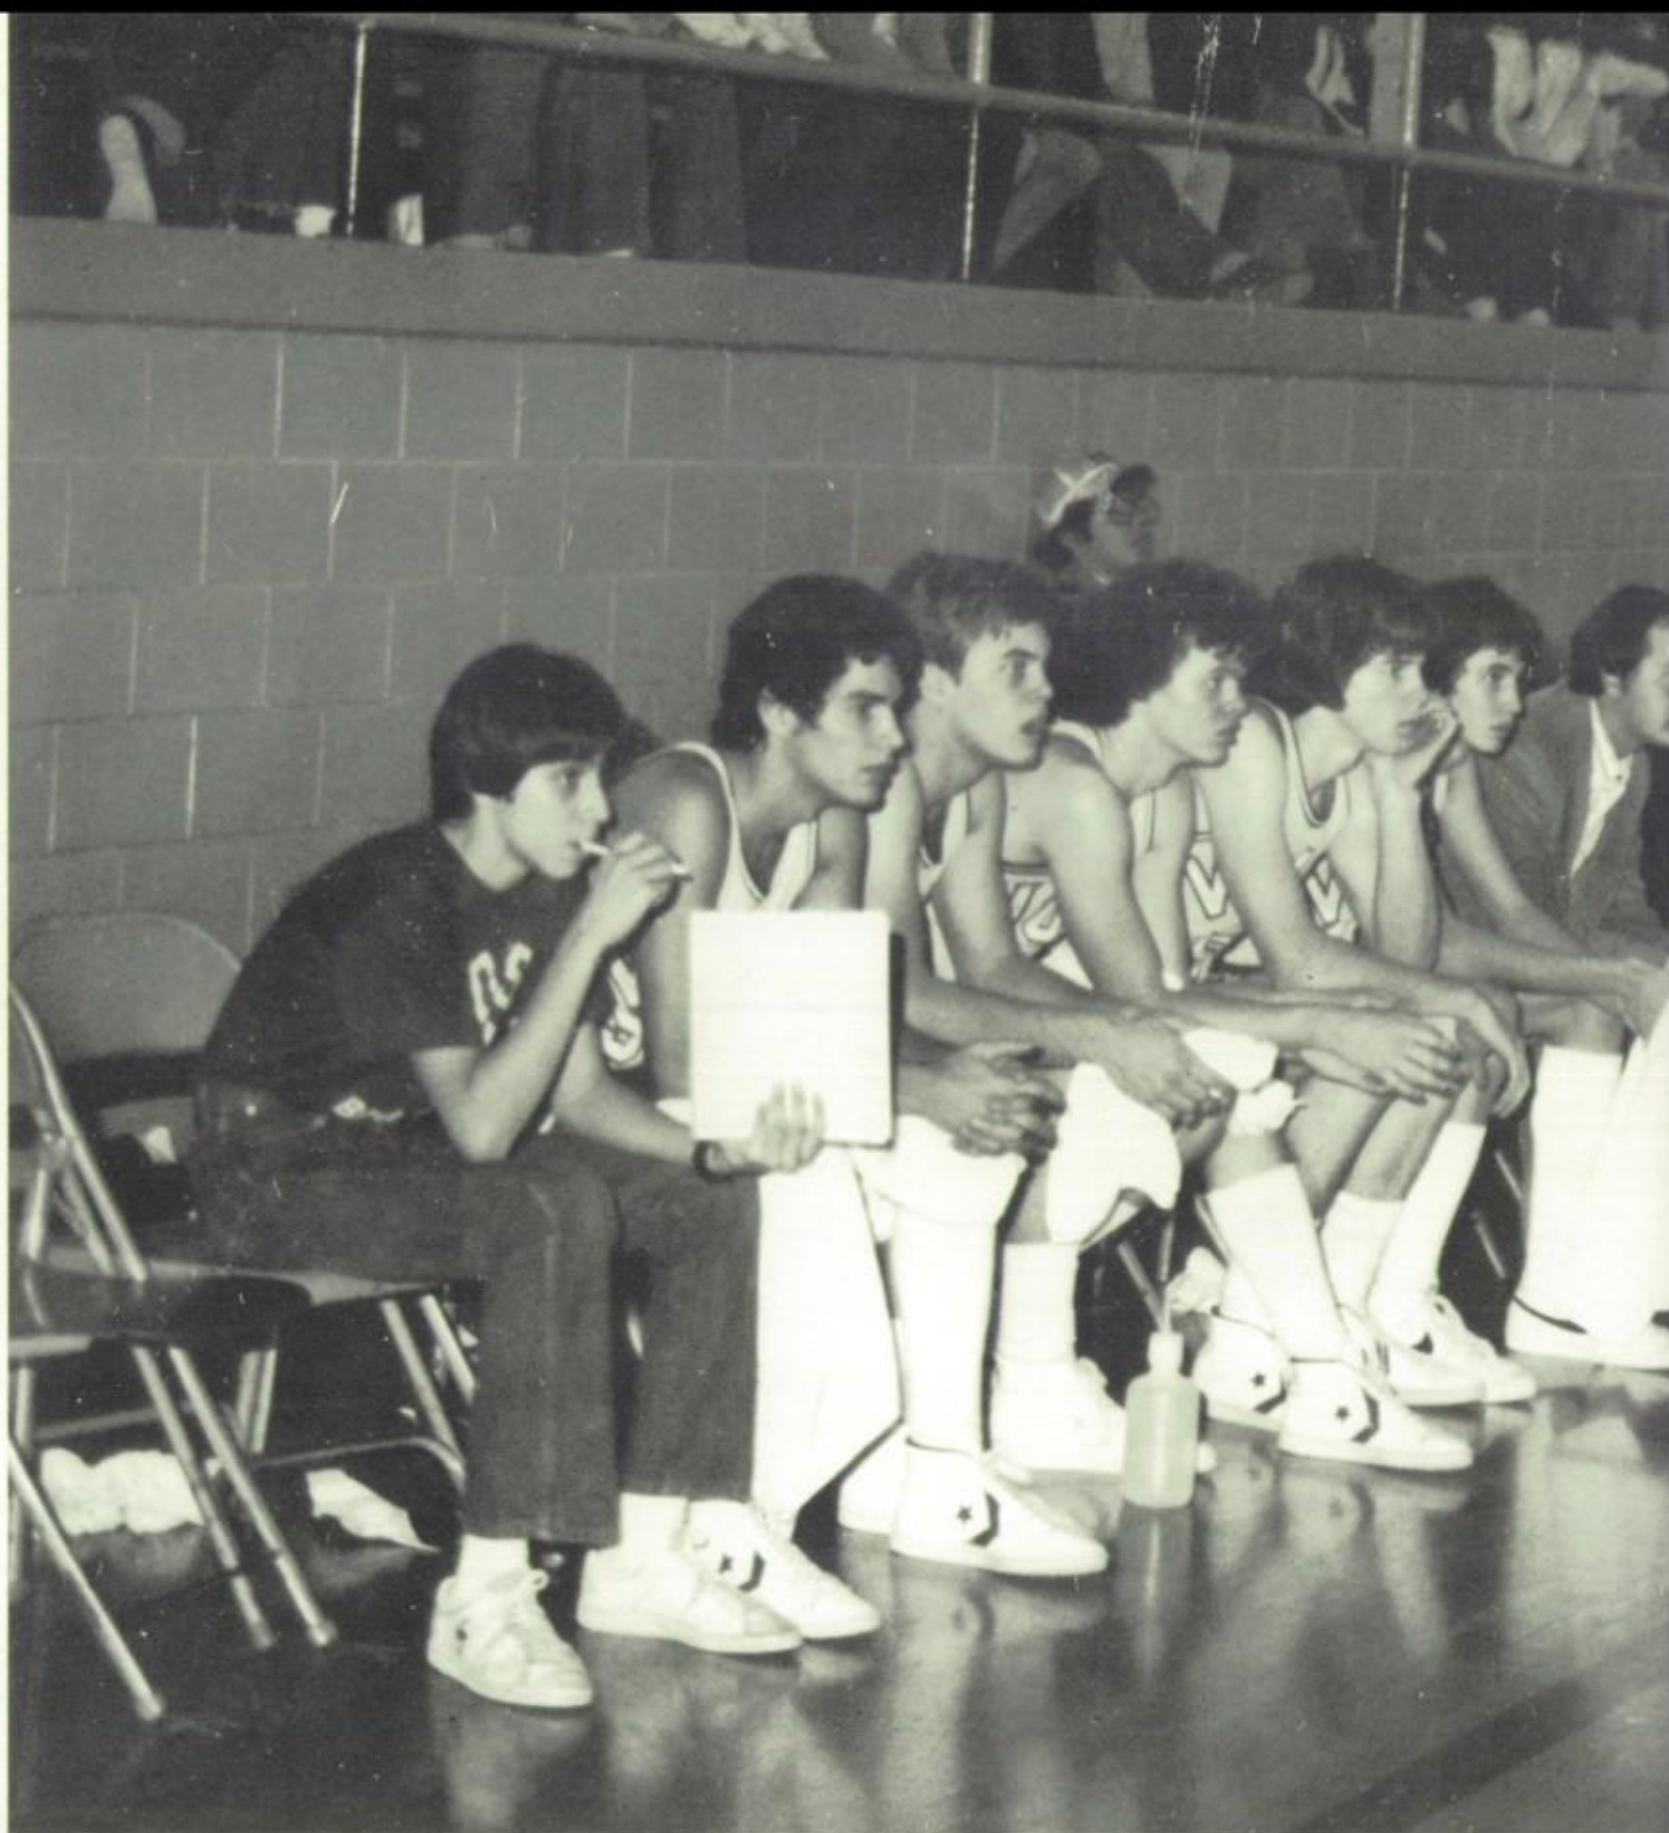

Custodian Sylvestre Torres stands at the door of the vocational building to take a break from his chores.

Custodian David Ortega empties the garbage cans behind the cafeteria.

Picking up the papers from the front of the school is Custodian Richard Marazo.

Good Times in Sports

In a dismal year for Lee athletics, girl's basketball was once again the bright spot. Last year, the female cagers played in the state tournament, and this year they won district finishing the season with a 25-7 record.

While other varsity sports faltered, the underclassmen were the real winners. The JV and freshman football teams both finished second in district to Churchill, and the freshman boy's basketball team finished second to MacArthur. The JV boy's basketball team capped a fine season by finishing third in the season-ending tournament.

The biggest loss of the year was not in a game, but instead was the loss of Lauren Cooke. Lauren, a junior basketball and volleyball player, was injured in a one-car accident February 2, and never regained consciousness. She died early Friday, March 26. This was not only the loss of an outstanding athlete, but also of a very special person and friend.

Varsity suffers injuries, losses

Disappointment clouds one's mind when he thinks about this year's varsity football season. The team showed promise early, ranked fourth city-wide in the pre-season and yielding only 14 points in the first three games of the season.

But Senior starting quarterback Danny Kloza was injured midway through the season and the team struggled to a 3-7 record, 2-6 in league play. The low point of the season came when Judson shut out the Vols 32-0.

The defense was the team's positive aspect and was responsible for keeping the Rebs close. The Rebs were leading high scoring Madison 8-7 going into the fourth quarter before losing 21-8, and they slowed down explosive Roosevelt before the Riders broke loose and won 20-7.

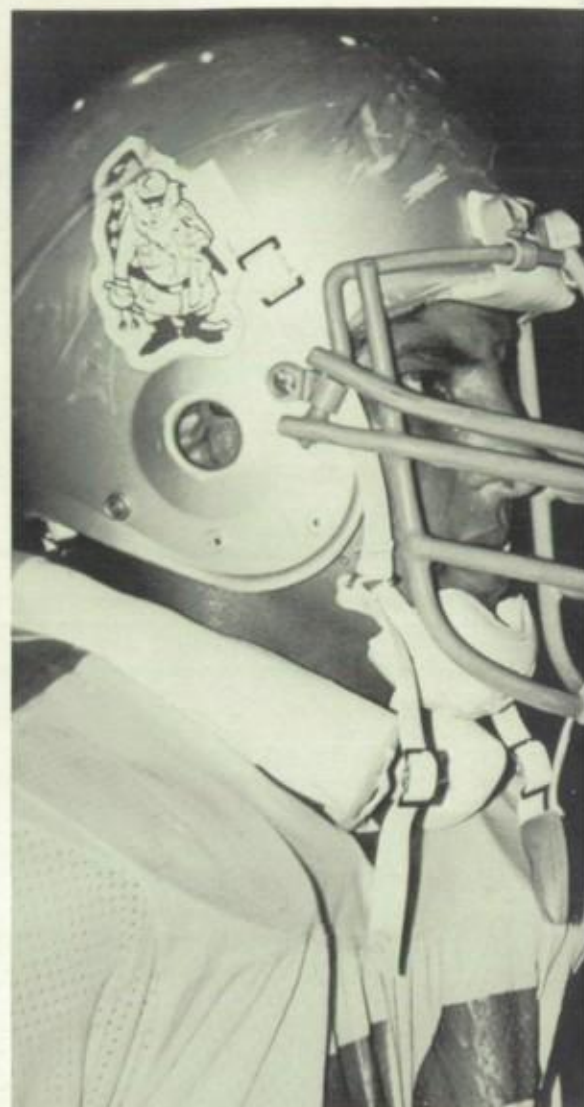

The season-ending game with Churchill ended in a 57-22 loss for the Vols. The 57 points were the most ever given up by a Lee team and the 3-7 record was the worst in Vol history.

Senior tight end Tay Ragland was the only Volunteer selected to the all-district team.

Defense Bombs Opponents, 9-1

The JV football team gained valuable experience and proved during the 1981 season that the Lee football winning tradition is not lost. They finished 9-1, tied for first place with Churchill.

The defense was tough throughout the season, but the offense was equally strong. Junior James McCabe and Sophomore Daniel Martinez split quarterback duties while Sophomores Yung Ngo, David Martinez and Junior Buddy Talerico spearheaded the running attack.

The Rebs shut out their first four opponents, and soon after defeated Madison 19-12 and Roosevelt 7-0. The Vols were 9-0 going into the final game against 8-1 Churchill. The Vols lost 20-7 and finished the season tied for first place.

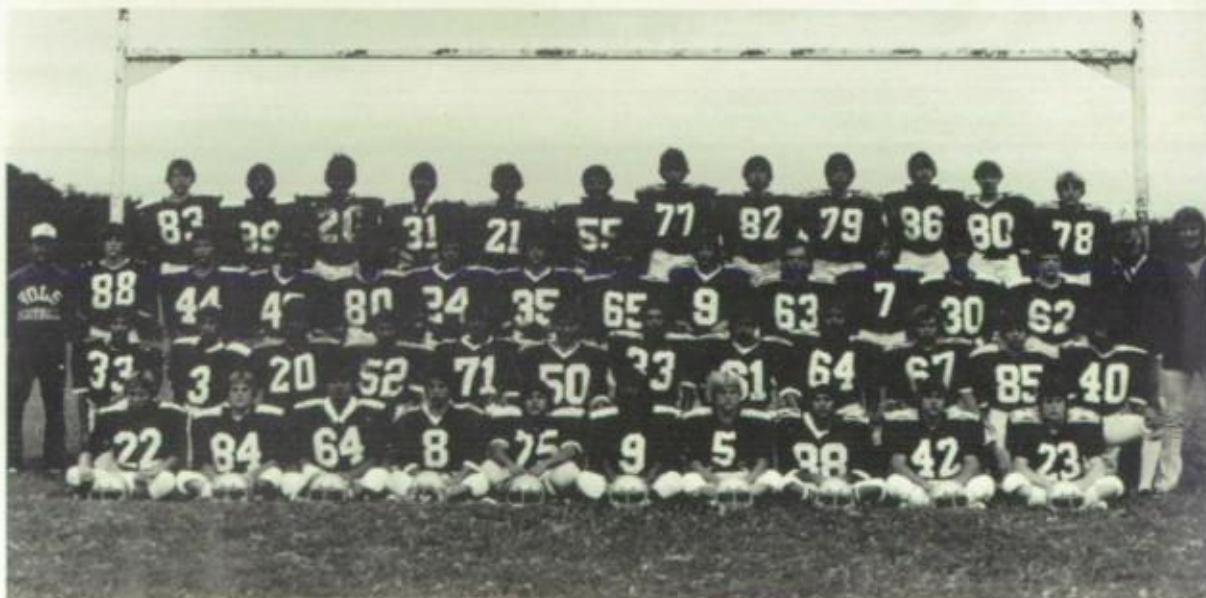

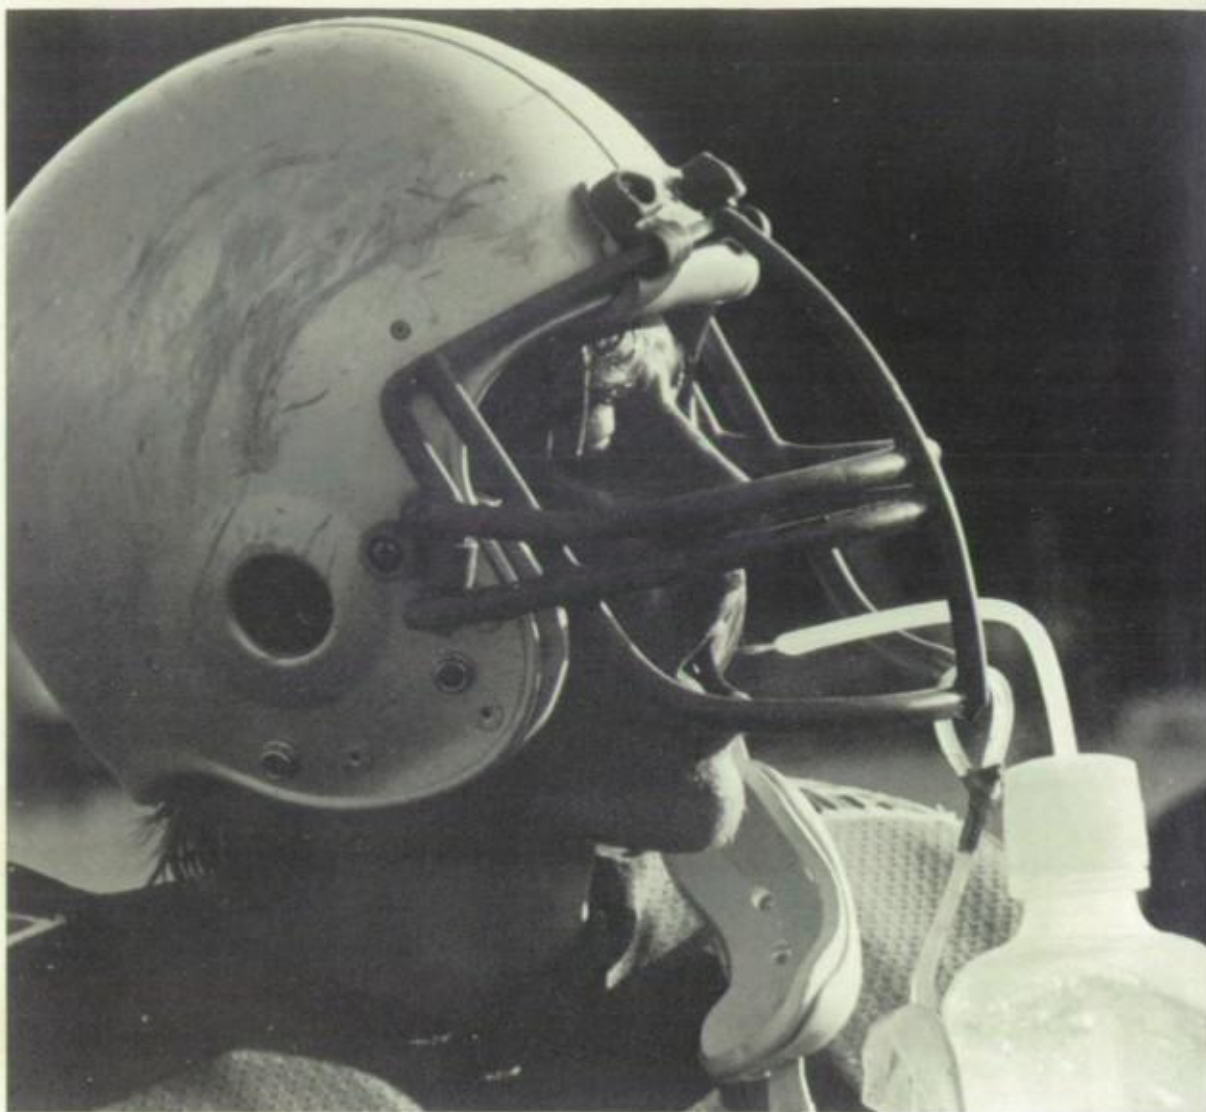

For the third straight season, the freshman football team finished a strong second behind archrival Churchill. The Vols lost to the Chargers in the last game of the season 12-6 after leading 6-0.

Quarterback Mike Marvell said, "I think we could have won, but I don't know what happened. I thought we had a pretty good season." Coaches of the team were Gary Richardson and first-year coach Bruce Meller.

Juniors carry Volleyball load

With all but three players graduating from last year's regional finalist team, the young varsity volleyball team struggled to an 8-21 record this season. The team consisted of mostly juniors, with the exceptions being Seniors Gina Guerra and Elma Garza.

The Vols gained valuable experience for next year during the long district season. The last five games of the season were spent preparing for next season, with Freshman Monique Zamarippa being moved up to varsity and starting.

Coach Lupe Ruiz said her feeling following the season was that "I thought we gained a lot of experience and I was looking forward to a short rest and to start getting ready for the off season for next year."

Ruiz said the sad death of Junior Lauren Cooke, a mainstay on the team, will hurt. "We're really gonna miss her athletic ability, her leadership, her competitiveness and her experience — her leadership especially. Even though you like to often think of sports as a team effort, 1 individual can make a difference. I have faith that the rest of the girls will give it the fight we all know Lauren would have," Ruiz commented.

Junior setter/spiker Rhonda Hoffman was named to the all-district first team, while Cooke was placed on the all-district second team.

Freshmen Help Out JV Volleyball Team

Junior Varsity volleyball team, like the varsity, did not perform as well as expected. The Vols compiled a 3-13 district record. Five freshmen — Monique Zamarippa, Michelle Acosta, Paddy Davis, Toni Reininger and Yvonne Perales — played on the JV, three of them starting at least once. Sophomores Holly Heatly, Tammy Herron and Vikki Engel (until her season-ending injury) were the mainstays of the team.

Coach Sandy Neal-Smith said, "We learned a lot. We had a lot of talent, just real young talent. I'm real excited about next season. This was a season where we had to do some learning and getting ready for next year."

Girls Win District, Fall to Highlands

Varsity girl's basketball team gained its second district championship in two years, but ended the season with a fizzle against Highlands in bi-district competition.

The girls lost to the Owls 53-47 Feb. 23 at UTSA's Convocation Center after securing the district championship against Seguin a week earlier.

Going into the Seguin game Feb. 16, the Vols had a 12-3 record, one game ahead of San Marcos and needing a win to clinch the district championship.

The Matadors did not die easily, forcing the game into two overtimes. In the second overtime, Junior post Amy Slankard stole an inbound pass and scored with 17 seconds remaining to spark the vols to a 54-50 win. The victory was the tenth in the last 11 contests and fifth overtime game in district play.

Starters for most of the season were guard Rhonda Hoffman, wings Sophomore Pam Cox and Sandra Whatley and posts Diane Bendele and Junior Lauren Cooke, until her accident.

When Cooke was injured, Vicky Lewis took her place. Other players were Slankard, Seniors Kelley Hill and Janina Gomez, and Freshmen Monique Zamarippa and Michelle Acosta.

Team Stands Tall in Face of Adversity

On Feb. 2 tragedy hit the girl's basketball team. Junior Lauren Cooke had a one-car accident before a game against Madison. The Vols won 46-45 in overtime, but Lauren never awakened. She died early Mar. 26.

Lauren was the leading scorer on the varsity at the time of her accident and was named most valuable player of the district and honorable mention all-city. She may have been the difference in the play-offs.

Volleyball player Melissa Villanueva said, "You could get along with her easy. I looked up to her a lot. She had something special about her."

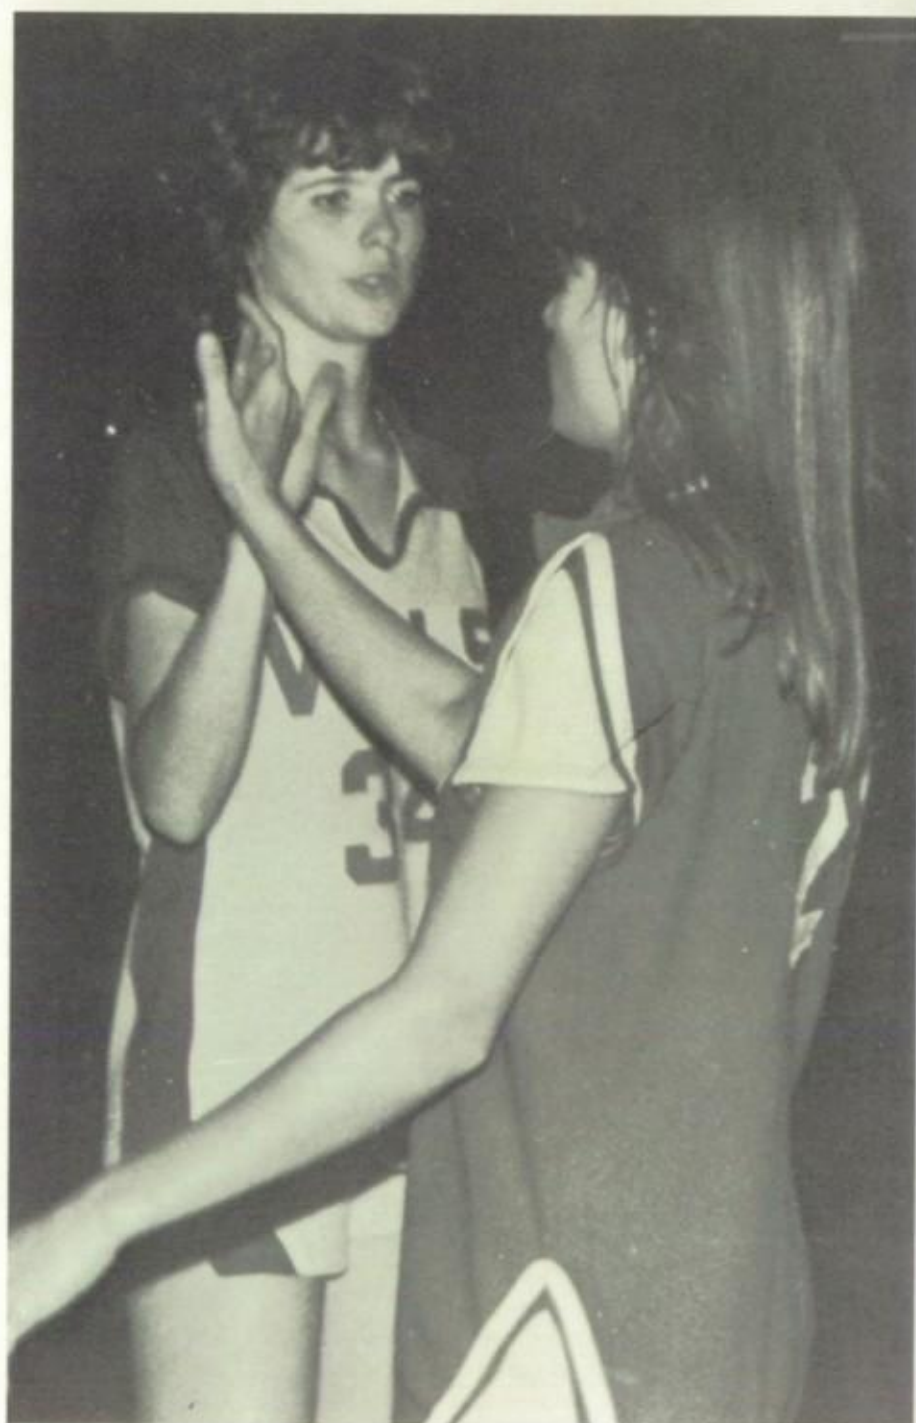

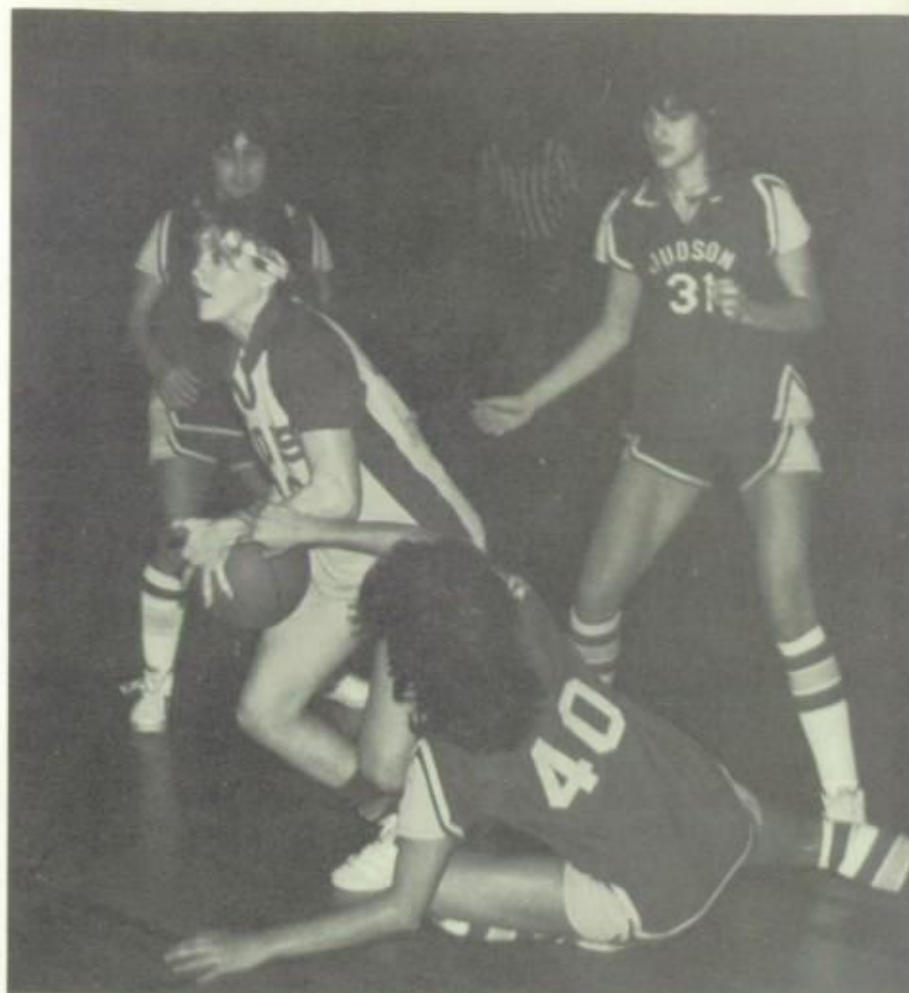

Basketball player Sandra Whatley commented, "She was a big asset. She was one of the more important players and more than that, she was a real good friend to everybody. There's a lot of love for her because I've known her for so long and she's been a real good friend. She couldn't say anything or do anything mean to anybody else. She's just an overall good person."

Junior Rhonda Hoffman said, "She was a leader. She always gave everything she had. Everyone looked up to her not only as a player, but as a person."

Lauren Cooke was more than a name to her teammates and everyone who knew her well. She will not soon be forgotten, for she left a lasting impression on everyone who met her. We'll miss you, Lauren.

JV, Freshmen Enjoy Winning Years

JV girls tallied a 16-11 record for their season. Finding district foes hard to beat, the girls won just over half of their district games.

Freshman girl's basketball team finished first in district, won the Northside Tournament and ended the season 16-3.

Coach Joni Biasioli cited Michelle Acosta as one of the freshman standouts. Other steady players were Yvonne Valdez and Pat Rodriguez.

Biasioli said, "We were always smaller than the other teams we played, but determination and hard work helped us come out on top. If this team stays together, with hard work and determination, they have a bright future."

Cagers Have Better Season

The varsity boy's basketball season did not turn out as good as expected, although the Vols started off well. In the preseason, they almost beat second in city Sam Houston, beat South San and almost defeated district 13-4A champ South San West Campus.

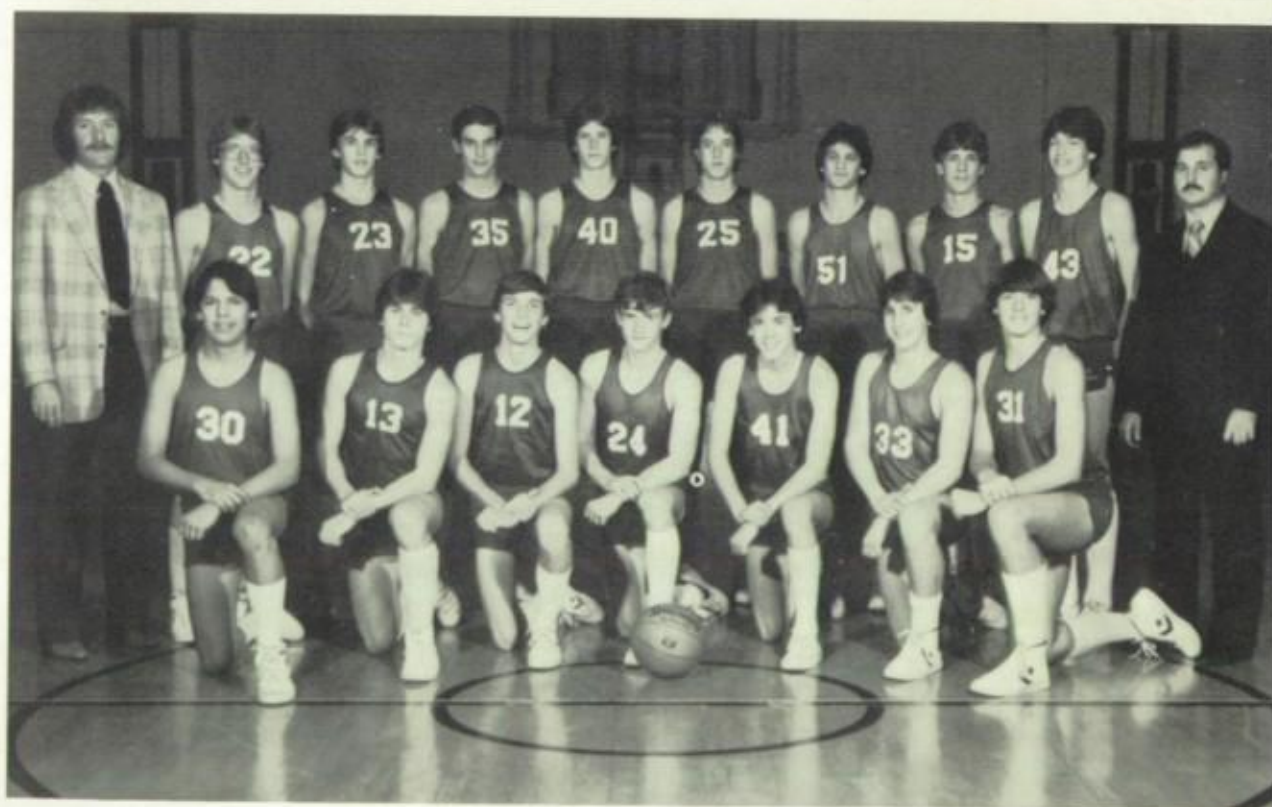

When district play began, the team seemed to fall apart and struggled to a 3-5 first round record. In the second round, the Vols played more freely and almost upset state champion Churchill, losing 58-55. The Vols ended with a 19-15 record.

Junior post Bill Grimes said, "At the beginning of the season we played team ball. We ran the offense fine. We played great. Then we started slacking off. We're looking forward to next year. We've been there . . . we know what it takes."

JV, Fresh Basketball

JV, Freshmen Enjoy Building Seasons

For the second year in a row, the JV boy's basketball team placed high in the season-ending tournament, capping a fine season. The Rebs took third place in the tournament after a second place finish in the second round of district.

The Vols were handed their first loss in the tournament by Sam Houston in the semifinals, 47-45 in a heartbreaker. They played MacArthur for third place honors and won in another nail-biter 47-45.

The tournament followed a marvelous second round of district, which saw the Rebs finish 6-2 after a 5-0 start. They beat Seguin and San Marcos by a whopping total of three points, then beat previously undefeated Roosevelt 68-59. Their two losses were to MacArthur by one point and to Churchill by three points. The Vols finished the year 17-13.

Coach Mike Salerno said, "The reason we weren't more successful the first half was because we switched Eric (Adams) up to varsity. Without him, it's a lot tougher for us to win. You never will win consistently unless you've got those first five meshing together all the time. We didn't have that the first round like we did the second half."

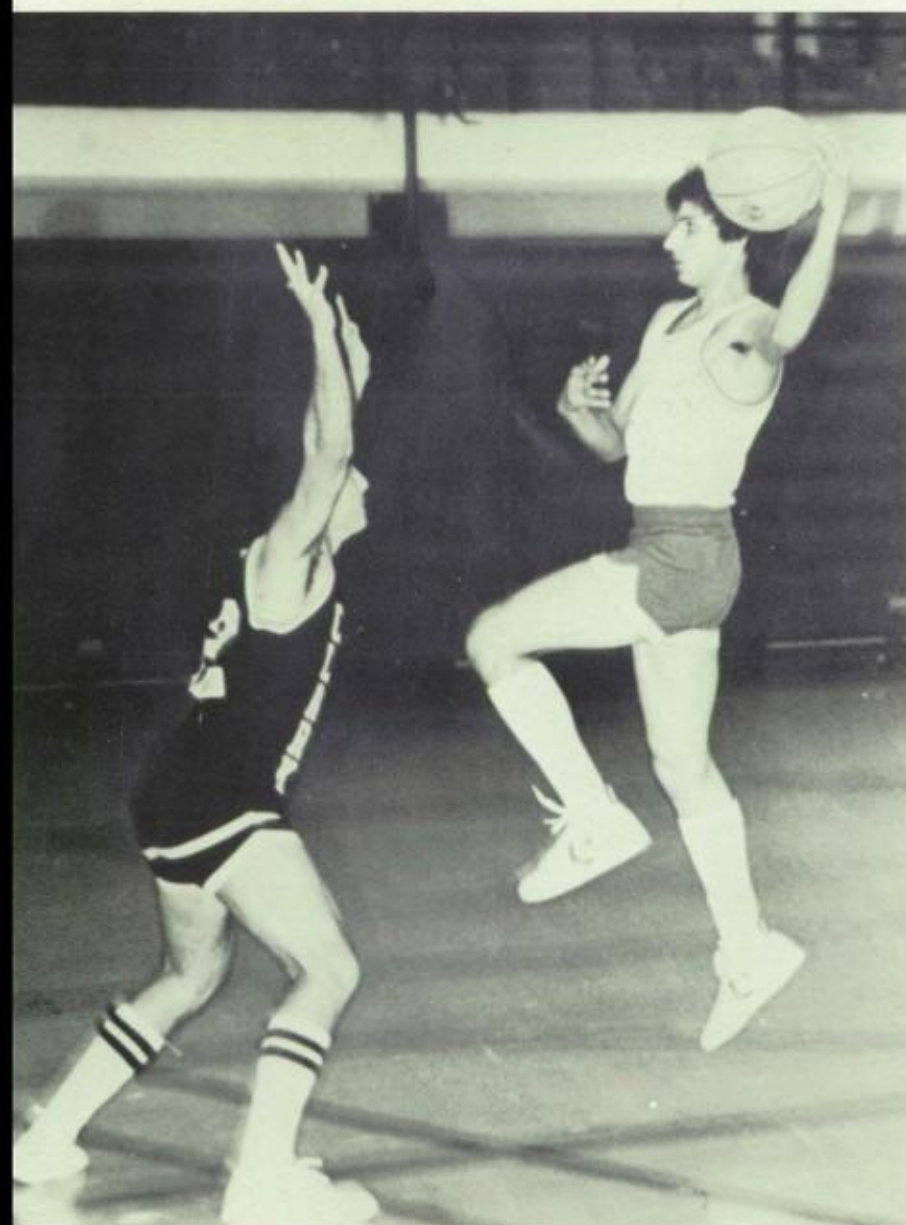

Salerno said there is not just one player responsible for the team's success. "I can't really point one person out, to tell you the truth. Chris Hutzler's valuable for rebounding and shooting. I gotta put Eric Adams in there with him and I gotta put Stidham (Bill) in there. Those are my three most valuable players," Salerno said.

Those three are also the team's highest scorers. Adams scored 16 points per game, Stidham averaged 14 points and Hutzler averaged 12 points. Hutzler also had uncanny accuracy from the free throw line, making 77 percent of his tries, and he was the team's top rebounder. In one game he pulled down 27 boards.

Led by Captain Marvell and Dr. Watson, the freshman boy's basketball team finished second in district with a 18-5 record.

Mike Marvell, nicknamed Captain, and Charles Watson, a.k.a. the Doctor, led the team in scoring. Marvell and Watson combined for 38 points as the cagers did what they could not do — they beat Churchill 70-39.

Marvell said, "We have a pretty good future if we work hard." He listed other good players as Watson, Grey Gibbs, and Jim Rehler.

Boys earn 3rd; Girls take 4th

Chris Lucas and Ricky Abbott shined in the regional swimming meet March 12-13 after leading the boys team to third place in the district meet.

Lucas finished fourth in the 200 meter freestyle with a time of 1:47.6, two tenths of a second away from going to state.

The girls won fourth in district. Laurie McKinney finished third in the 100 meter freestyle in 59 seconds.

In the district meet, Abbott won second in the 100 meter butterfly and was third in the 200 meter individual medley. Lucas was second in the 200 meter freestyle and third in the 500 meter freestyle. Freshman David Walder placed fifth in the 50 meter freestyle.

Coach Jim Yates praised the freshman boys, who accounted for more than half of the team. Yates said, "All the freshmen started winning. About four freshmen did really well. I had a whole bunch of freshmen and ended up with only eight."

The first team, with only five members also competed in regionals. The 400 meter freestyle relay, consisting of Linda Crabtree, Sheri Steele, Anna Hoelsher and Laurie McKinney won Sixth. Diver Shana Jones won fifth place.

Abbott set the school records in the 100 meter butterfly at 56.2 seconds and in the 200 meter freestyle at 2:04.8.

Pitching Proves Tough as Season Closes

The Vols varsity baseball team looked forward to the 1982 season with great hopes, with five returning starters and three returning lettermen.

The Red Machine (which Coach Bruce Meller affectionately called the Vols) were charged offensively by Gary Carr, who led the team and the district with a .500 batting average.

In the infield, second baseman, Senior Mark Norris led the way, giving up only two errors. Norris also teamed up with shortstop Junior Alan Long in being one of the best doubleplay combinations in the district.

All-district honors went to Gary Carr, catcher; Jimmy Williams, pitcher; Pete Bailey, first baseman; and Carlos Banda, rightfield.

After a poor first half, Vols pitching proved to be vital as the team won six of their last seven games. Seniors Kevin Armstrong and Daniel Winget proved that Volunteer pitching was as tough as its reputation.

Against the Roosevelt Roughriders, Armstrong and Winget combined in an extra-inning no-hitter, which the Vols won 7-2. Armstrong later combined with sophomore pitcher Eric Forestier in another no-hitter against Antonian.

The Rebels proved their determination, tough character, and ability against the first place Churchill Chargers. The Vols went into the game a half game behind the Chargers. The Red Machine stormed by Churchill 7-0. Going into their last game of the season, Lee was tied for first place with Churchill, Madison, and San Marcos.

Lee's last conflict was with MacArthur. The Volunteers fell behind early 2-0. In the bottom of the seventh inning, Mark Norris led the inning off for the Vols with a single to rightfield. Gary Carr followed with a shot over the leftfield fence to tie the game up 2-2 and sent the game into extra innings. MacArthur opened the ninth, exploding against Lee's defense for five more runs, which the Vols offense could not match.

The loss to MacArthur shut the Vols out of the district title. Overall, the 1982 Volunteer baseball team proved to be one of the best overall teams in the last decade of the school.

JV Shows Promise for the Future

The 1982 JV baseball team had an outstanding year under their new arrival, Coach Bruce Meller. The Vols went 20-5, the best finish in three years.

The defense was led by Sophomore Daniel Martinez, Junior John Gutierrez, and Freshman Albert Molina.

The '82 JV team was filled with pitchers. Mike Jacobs (9-1) also led the team in pitching, along with Junior Ronald Rodriguez (7-0). Catcher Berry Medley commented, "It was real enjoyable calling signals for Ron and Jake. They never really worked me behind the plate."

At the closing of the season, Rodriguez, Sanchez, and Molina were moved up to varsity level.

Golf Team Wins Accolades

"The golf team had a very successful year," said Coach Melford Turner. After finishing eighth out of sixteen teams at regional competition held in Corpus Christi.

Their other performances of the year included a second place victory in district competition and a first place in the San Antonio De Molay tournament.

Junior Jim Vollmer made All-District and Senior Danny Kloza made Honorable Mention. Other players included Seniors Ray Cole and Brad Beldon, and Junior Jorge Aguilar.

Squad Proud to Have New Coach

The gymnastics team made a "100 percent improvement" over last year, according to Senior Tom McCann. In the awards department, Junior Jim Hunick achieved seventh place in state.

McCann said, "Jim had a real good compulsory (set routine) and optional core in regional. For the boys to qualify for state is pretty hard."

What makes qualifying for state a little easier is having a good coach, one like first-year teacher Greg Goodhue. "He's really exceptional," McCann said. "He's fair to everyone in the class. He helps everyone all the time. We got a coach who can teach all the events. Not only did we get a good coach, we got a great coach."

Sophomore Allison Beldon also excelled, in club gymnastics. She reached nationals as a result of her third place finish in regionals. In nationals, she placed fifth on the balance beam and twenty-first all-around. Beldon said, "I had gotten alternate the last two years. This was my first year at nationals."

Two Perform at Regionals

Senior Scott Goodson was at the top of the district once again in the 880-yard run, and Freshman Frank Garcia was first in district in the 440-yard dash in his first year in high school track.

Goodson won the 880 two times in three years in district, and he earned a trip to regionals when he ran the 880 in 2:00.6, edging Roosevelt's Jesse Martinez, who finished in 2:01.3 in the district meet.

Garcia performed like anything but a freshman as he raced to a 51.05 showing in the 440, barely beating Clemen's Henry Johnson (51.23) and Judson's Karl Winfield (51.9).

At regionals, Garcia ran the 44 meters, which he ran at the regional qualifiers meet. He finished fifth in 49.22 seconds. This was Goodson's second trip to regionals where he finished sixth.

JV Tracksters Place Sixth

Runners dominated Lee's JV track efforts at the district meet. Best effort was gained with a second place 440 run by Buddy Talerico.

The 440-yard relay team — Donald Jungerman, Andrew DeLa Pena, Rudy Perez, Buddy Talerico — placed third. Henry J. Davila also placed third in his event, the 880.

Placing sixth in district competition, the team earned 39 points.

Two Set Record Times

Becky Hutton and Pam Cox were standouts on the girl's track team, according to Coach Mel Dixon.

At the district meet in April, Hutton placed third in the two-mile run and set a school record. She also placed sixth in the mile run.

Multi-talented athlete Pam Cox set a new school record in the mile run and placed third. She also placed fourth in the 880 run.

Duran Leads Varsity Team

Lee's Tennis team, coached by Mrs. Beth Walker, did very well this season. The player leading the team was Bobby Duran. Bobby placed as runner up in regionals. His loss was to the boy who won state. Bobby, however, was the District champion.

The freshman team seems to be following in the footsteps of the varsity team. They were off to a very strong start. The freshman team won district.

The junior varsity team won second place in district, with nine other schools competing.

The varsity team was ranked seventh in state. Since the state meet, however, they have beaten Abilene Cooper, ranked first at state competition, and also defeated Houston Memorial, which placed second in the state tournament.

Good Times in Organizations

Most "good times" at school were shared in the many club activities going on about the campus. Organizations exist for practically every interest-spirit and language clubs, as well as academic and vocational organizations. Such a wide spectrum offers each student vast opportunities to participate in extra-curricular activities.

The organizations participate in all types of functions. HOSA's biannual blood drives prove truly beneficial to the community, and the Octagon Club's Southern Manor visit also gave Lee students the chance to help others. Cultural field trips such as the French Club's trip to the McNay Art Institute helped to further students' knowledge in other aspects of the language. Events such as these and many others provided memorable times for Lee students.

Pride Committee members from all Northeast high schools present a skit with a message, vandalism hurts everyone in the school district. Lee's reps are Greg Bourgeois, Deanna Olivares, Scott Retzloff and Tim Green. Assistant Principal Gail Siller advises the group. Lee distinguished itself in the first year of Pride competition by winning second place overall. Madison won first place.

Instead of seniors vandalizing the school, they choose to show their class spirit in a positive way with posters, etc.

School winners in the Pride anti-vandalism editorial contest are Mr. Paul Matteson with Junior winner Eddie Klauer, Principal Bill Evans, Freshman Sarah Pressly with Mrs. Beverly Gonzales, Senior Valerie Lieck with Mrs. Karen Calhoun. Not shown is Sophomore Skip Hinman and his teacher, Mrs. Carol Lillibridge. Hinman and Lieck also won district-wide honors for their grade levels.

At pep rallies Student Council representatives often presented a Spirit Box to the football team.

Club Welcomes Belgium Girl

AFS/RIC is an organization which helps brighten the lives of others and welcomes foreign exchange students to school.

This year's exchange student was Christel Smeys from Belgium. AFS gave all the exchange students a tour of Lee during Volsfest.

The club's main event was a party given to children at the Children's Shelter. Each member brought baskets and goodies for the children.

They also sang Christmas carols at the Medical Center Hospital and showed the movie "What's Up Doc?" to Lee students.

The end-of-the-year party was held at Landa Park on May 22.

This year's officers were: President, Veronica Henderson; Vice President, Lisa Munoz; Treasurer, Cindy Garza; Secretary, Denise Schweitzer and Directors Debbie Jimenez, and Erma Gomez.

Students Can Fix It

Car problems? Need a place to fix your car cheap? How about Lee's own automechanics shop? For the cost of parts, the automechanics department will fix anything as minor as an oil change to overhauling the transmission or engine.

Students began the year changing oil, filters, and doing tune-ups. Later they advanced to overhauling engines and transmissions, and fixing brakes.

Mr. Crawford is the automechanics advisor.

Senior Gary Rivas won a jazz plaque; Sophomore Darla Garrahan won a twirler plaque and Junior Scott Murphey won a chimes plaque.

While in Daytona Beach, the band visited Disney World.

Most of the band's fund raising events went toward the trip to Florida.

They sold nachos at Volsfest, had a candy and soap sale, and held can and bottle drives.

Drum Major was Donnie Kotulan, Twirler was Darla Garrahan, and Directors were Melvin Meads and Alfred Esquivel.

Choir Sings to Victory

The 1981-82 school year was an outstanding one for the Lee choirs. They have won many awards under the direction of Jim Shephard.

The Concert Choir, Men of Lee, Girls' Choir I received sweepstakes at UIL (University Interscholastic League). Girls' Choir II won a UIL special award for a superior rating in concert.

The Madrigals received first place as a chamber choir and second place as a show choir at the River City Choral Festival in Austin.

Several Lee choir members made the All-State Choir. They were Mary Runkle, soprano first chair; Jan Blize, soprano second chair; Sheli Troxel, alto first chair; Christa Griffith, alto second chair; and Eddie Bowles, tenor second chair.

During the summer a few members of the choir went to Mexico on a concert tour.

DECA students learn while they earn

First year students in DECA have a two year class which teaches the basic knowledge of the marketing career. The second hour of Distributive Education Pre-Employment Lab allows the student to practice mathematical and sales skills. Working at the Volunteer Exchange helps the student practice control of money and inventory management.

Busy Is Word for Drama Dept.

The Drama Department is one of the most active. It has always been ready to put on plays for the school. As in the past, they have put on a selection of plays. "Renard the Fox," "The Crucible," "Bus Stop," "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Marat / Sade" and ten performances with the Mime Troupe kept the students and teachers busy.

This club has always had many participants. The work is educational and is fun because of the large participation rating.

Drama is an elective and can be taken by a student of any grade.

FCA's Purpose Is Helping

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization that looks forward to opportunities to help others less fortunate than themselves.

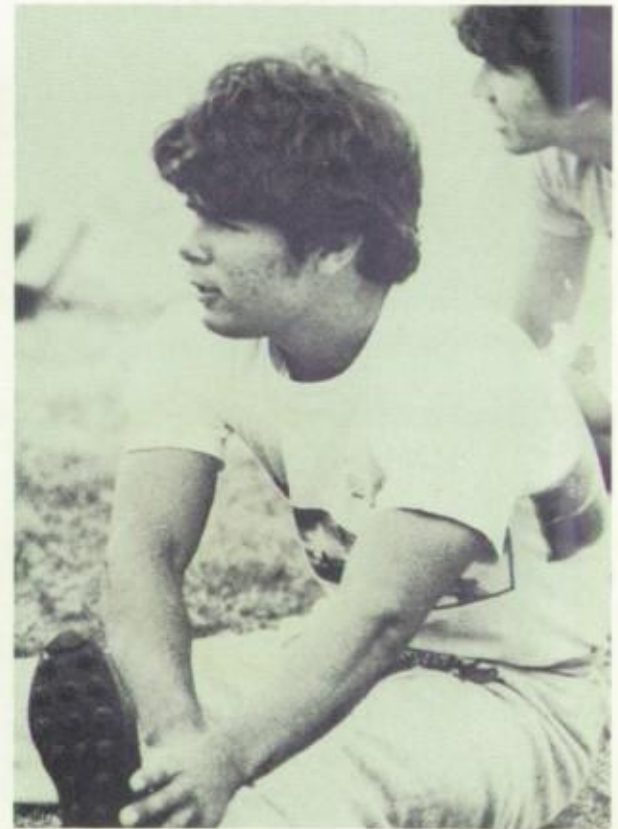

For the past three years, they have helped with the Special Olympics. March 9, all freshman, sophomore, and junior football players participated in helping those competing in the Olympics.

The club had two Volsfest booths, a football throw and a wheel of fortune. They made $224, used to send FCA members to a summer conference in Estes Park, Colorado.

Other fund raising events included setting up and taking down chairs for the Battle of Flowers and Fiesta Flambeau parades. They made $986; they took down booths for the Junior Chamber of Commerce La Semana Alegre for $600, and $72 were made by selling t-shirts.

Officers included President Eddie Klauer, Vice President Mario Valdez, and Secretary-Treasurer James McCabe. Sponsor of the club was Mr. Marshall Fleener.

Wunderbar Year

The German Club was a very active club. The club fundraisers were a candy sale, Rebel "koozie" sale, German advent calendar sale, red balloon sale at Lee vs. Churchill football game, bake sale, a Volsfest booth, and a German Club day at Chuck E. Cheese's. All these sales brought in great sums of money for the club funds for next year's members to attend their competitions.

This year's competitions were Sprachfest in San Marcus, and TAGS (Texas Association of German Students) in Houston, at which several first and second places were placed.

The club went Christmas caroling to a nursing home and sang in German. There was the annual trip to Wursthfest in New Braunfels, the picnic in the fall, and a banquet in the spring to announce the new officers for the next year.

The officers were President, Mike Bainum; Vice President, Angie Bettencourt; Secretary, Carol Greiner; Treasurer, Lisa Popp; Reporter-Historian, Norma Vidal and Publicity Chairman, Shannon Spoor.

Students Gain Skills in Gardening Class

This year the horticulture department put three flower beds in front of the greenhouse on a fundeck built by Mr. Johnson's shop class. During football season students in horticulture made mums and boutonnieres for themselves. At Christmas they planted hollow logs and sold them.

On Valentine's Day teachers received a small plant that was rooted, planted, wrapped, and delivered by the horticulture students. On May 5 and 6 students made terrariums, or bottle gardens, and received several blue ribbons and red ribbons at the Skillsfest.

HOSA Learns, Competes, Works

HOSA (Health Occupations Students of America) sponsored two blood drives to help out the South Texas Regional Blood Bank.

Students learned about health occupations both in the classroom and on the job. They also heard guest speakers such as doctors discuss various aspects of the health field. Sponsor Suzanne Harvey, a former nurse, hoped to bring the specific knowledge and professional attitude necessary for her students to be successful.

Again, the Parliamentary procedure team and other HOSA students won many awards at competition.

Good Times in Honors

The Senior Class of 1982 was one of outstanding potential and the honors they earned express this. Fourteen seniors qualified for the positions of National Merit semi-finalists — more than any of the other schools in the district. Out of the Senior Class, students were accepted to fine institutions such as Harvard, Stanford, MIT, Dartmouth, Cal Tech, Brown, and Cornell. Many others received scholarships elsewhere.

Other honors included the traditional Stratford Court ceremonies which took place at the Alzafar Shrine. The superlatives, usually announced at the Stratford, were recognized at the Junior-Senior Prom. The Marriot Ballroom served as the setting this year for the recognition of these class-elected favorites and the officers for the year of 1982-83.

Pre-Law Rakes in Top Prizes

A big friendly group can describe the Law Enforcement Club sponsored by Mr. Don Cole.

For Volsfest, the club had the "Great Texas Shoot-out," a skill game of basketball shots. The club won first place in game booth category and the grand prize trophy for "Best of Volsfest."

The club also held a mum sale for the Mac game. Profits furthered club activities and helped purchase materials for classroom use.

Another highlight of the year was the annual "Inter-club Basketball Tournament." To the cry of "FACE," the Law Enforcement A-team swept the tournament and took the championship trophy.

Ranch trip is NHS Reward

The highlight of the NHS year was going to a dude ranch for a weekend. "This voyage provided such activities such as swimming in the rain, horseback riding, volleyball, and lots of eating," said President Susan Tucker.

The mainstream of funds comes from the rummage sale at Volsfest and brings in about $250 and the mum sale for the Lee versus Churchill game that brings in about $800. With this money, the NHS decided upon giving a $100 donation to the Mission Home Road Foundation. This home aids those who need mental or physical rehabilitation. The rest of the money was used to pay for those who went to the Dude Ranch.

"Some of next year's activity plans include continuing the free tutoring service and hopefully get involved with Project Pride," say President-elect Christine Postolos.

Spanish Honor Group Stays Busy

The National Spanish Honor Society, or NSHS, consists of Spanish III, IV, and V students. Spanish II students who wish to be in NSHS must maintain an A average. NSHS officers for '81-'82 were President Brad Kutchins, Vice-President Richard Tatman, Secretary Gilbert Buentello, and Treasurer Bradford Beldon.

The NSHS usually meets once a month to cover activities. The NSHS had numerous candy sales and donut sales throughout the year to help raise money for the club's activities.

The annual Christmas Posada was held at Shelley Gray's house. The NSHS members had a chance to attend "Butterflies are Free" at the Fiesta Dinner Playhouse.

An induction ceremony was held for all new members to the NSHS. The annual trip, optional for all NSHS members, was to Mexico City where they toured various famous historical locations. These historical spots include the National Palace, Municipal Cathedral and the pyramids of Teotihuacan.

Corps Has Banner Year

The Corps of Cadets was extremely active. One hundred and fifty-seven cadets, the largest single school enrollment in the history of NEISD, coupled with trips to Fort Hood, Texas A&M football game and numerous competitions in boy's and girl's drill teams, varsity and JV rifle teams, Orienteering, First Aid and Color Guard made it a very rewarding and exciting year. Lee's entries received numerous honors in many of these events.

The Corps of Cadets received a much sought after "Honor Unit" designation during its Annual Formal Inspection (AFI) for its overall outstanding performance. This designation placed the Lee Corps of Cadets in the upper 40 percent of all JROTC units in the nation.

The big social event of the year was the 14th Annual Military Ball held at the Fort Sam Houston Officers Club. C/Cpt Bea Flores' crowning as the Military Ball queen and an inspirational talk by University of Texas All-American and Houston Oilers Football player, Scott Appeton, highlighted an evening of dining, dancing and fun.

The year will be long remembered as a year of achievement and progress for the Lee Corps of Cadets.

Jennifer Ragland danced and Julie Cardell did a gymnastics routine. Freshman Mikki Wells sang and choir members Dana Hawthorne, Susan Presley, Paige Blowen and Katie Fleener sang as a quartet.

Fruit punch was sold at their Volsfest booth and brought them $50. They also raised money selling candy and mums. Officers were President Senior Debra Peters, Vice President, Rose Zerda, Secretary Senior Debbie Citron, Treasurer Freshman Michael Lysinger, Historian Senior Alvin Knoll. Club sponsors were Mrs. Mary Lysinger, Mrs. Brenda Northcutt, and Mrs. Anna Meyers.

Students Mourn Loss of Friends

Three tragedies struck two students and a former teacher.

Dottie Ashmore, senior, was killed in a car wreck early in the school year.

Mrs. Bessie Cutcher, retired English teacher, died of cancer. She will be remembered by her students for the unique way she conducted her classes. For example, she had the boys stand up when a female entered the room. She was an inspiration to her students, and she gave each student a card with a special message. (See below.)

Junior Lauren Cooke was hurt in a car accident and died of her injuries March 26. As one of the school's top girl athletes, Lauren's loss hit a great many people.

God hath not promised
skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
peace without pain.

But God hath promised strength for the day,
Rest for the labor
light for the way,
Grace for the trials
help from above,
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

Lauren Cooke, Mrs. Bessie Cutcher, and Dottie Ashmore were members of the Lee community.

Events Brought Special Times

School this year had many aspects. Not only did we strive for knowledge but we also learned to balance hard work with pleasure.

Varied events added to our "good times." Fiesta week with NIOSA and the parades brought students from all schools together as did the annual spring break Port Aransas pilgrimages. These and many other special times will be remembered for the rest of our lives.

Junior Rebel Rouser Carla Stern puts on a great show in the Battle of Flowers Day parade April 23.

"Good Times" Memorable

When looking back on the "good times" shared during the school year of 1981-82, different events come to mind to different individuals.

Involvement in extra-curricular activities provided the majority of on-campus memories. The most memorable occasions, though, are the times we spent with our friends out of school. Whether spending the evening "out on the town" or quietly at home with close friends, these times prove the most significant.

Twirler Sophomores Darla Garrahan and assistant drum major Senior Laurence Alvarado lead the band in the Battle of Flowers Day parade. Afterwards, NIOSA provided plenty of night-life fun for many Lee students. Photo by Robert Casell.
